1959 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Unbeaten and untied, the 1959 Orange capped an 11-0 season with a 23-14 victory against Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse dominated its foes both offensively and defensively under the direction of consensus National Coach of the Year Ben Schwartzwalder. The defense allowed a mind-boggling 193 yards rushing in 10 regular-season games. Running back Ernie Davis led an Orange offense that averaged 451 yards per game. Guard Roger Davis, who was selected seventh overall by the Chicago Bears in the 1960 NFL Draft, end Fred Mautino, halfback Gerhard Schwedes and tackle Bob Yates earned All-America honors.

1961 HEISMAN TROPHY WINNER:
ERNIE DAVIS

In 1961, the Civil Rights Act was three years from becoming a reality. It would be four years until the voting rights of all Americans were protected by federal law. But, an unassuming sports hero was about to play an important, yet unintentional, role in the burgeoning civil rights movement. On Dec. 6, 1961, Syracuse University running back Ernest R. Davis was awarded the Heisman Trophy. It was the first time an African-American was honored as college football's best player, even though they had participated in the game since the late 1800s.

As a sophomore, Davis rushed for a team-high 686 yards and scored 10 touchdowns to power Ben Schwartzwalder's 1959 Orange to a 10-0 regular-season record, the nation's No. 1 ranking, and a Cotton Bowl showdown with Texas. With the collective eyes of the college football world focused on Dallas, Davis captured MVP honors, scoring two touchdowns – one on an 87-yard halfback option pass from captain Gerhard Schwedes – and setting up a third to spark a 23-14 Orange triumph.

In 1960, Davis led the squad in rushing again with 877 yards and scored 10 more touchdowns to earn All-America accolades. Davis paced Syracuse on the ground for a third time in 1961, rushing for 823 yards and scoring 15 touchdowns. In the Liberty Bowl, he ran for 140 yards on 30 carries and scored Syracuse's first touchdown, as the Orange rallied from a 14-0 halftime deficit to nip Miami (Fla.), 15-14.

A unanimous selection for his second first-team All-America honor, Davis was then rewarded with the 1961 Heisman Trophy. President John F. Kennedy sent the following telegram to Davis in 1963 after a celebration of Davis' achievements in Elmira, New York:

"Seldom has an athlete been more deserving of such a tribute. Your high standards of performance on the field and off the field reflect the finest qualities of competition, sportsmanship and citizenship. The nation has bestowed upon you its highest awards for your athletic achievements. It's a privilege for me to address you tonight as an outstanding American, and as a worthy example of our youth. I salute you."

Hoping to team the talented Davis with his Syracuse backfield predecessor and NFL rushing king Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell traded for Davis after Washington selected him with the first overall pick in the annual draft. But before the former Orange stars could suit up together, Davis contracted leukemia and died on May 18, 1963. He was 23 years old.

In the fall of 1979, Davis, who had taken the greatness of Syracuse's No. 44 from Jim Brown and passed it on to Floyd Little, was posthumously inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame. In 2008, "The Express," a motion picture about Davis' life, premiered in downtown Syracuse. Syracuse University has honored Davis in many ways, including the retirement of his No. 44 jersey, erecting a statue of him on the University Quad, building Ernie Davis Hall and celebrating the 50th anniversary of his historic Heisman victory with an event at the New York Historical Society Museum in 2011.

BEST OF THE BEST

Fifty Orange have been named to at least one major All-America first team a total of 62 times. Center J.A. (Joe) Alexander and halfback Floyd Little were three-time, first-team honorees.

CONSECUTIVE SEASONS FROM 1975 TO 1999 WITH AT LEAST ONE ALL-AMERICAN

During Syracuse's 130-year football history, more than 100 Orange players have been named All-Americans. Bill Horr became the program's first in 1907 when the legendary Walter Camp selected Horr to his "Second Eleven." Punter Sterling Hofrichter is Syracuse's most recent honoree. In 2019, Hofrichter was recognized by seven selectors, including the FWAA, USA Today and Associated Press. The year before, placekicker Andre Szmyt was honored by 14 selectors and became the ninth unanimous All-American in team history.

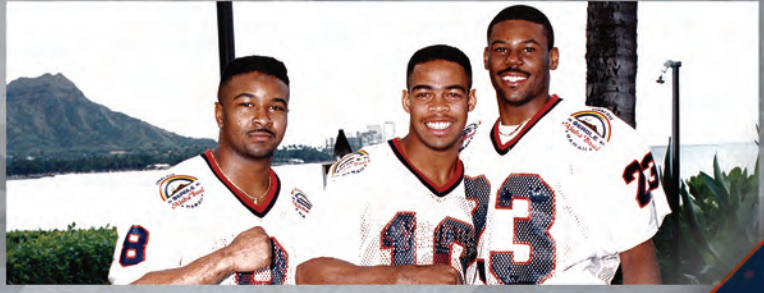
BOWL TRADITION

Syracuse is 16-9-1 in its 26 bowl appearances and has won six of its last seven postseason games, including the 2018 Camping World Bowl. From 1989-96, the Orange won seven consecutive bowl games, the seventh-longest streak in the history of college football. Syracuse has played in 17 different bowl games. The program's .635 winning percentage ranks fifth all-time among schools with at least 15 bowl appearances.

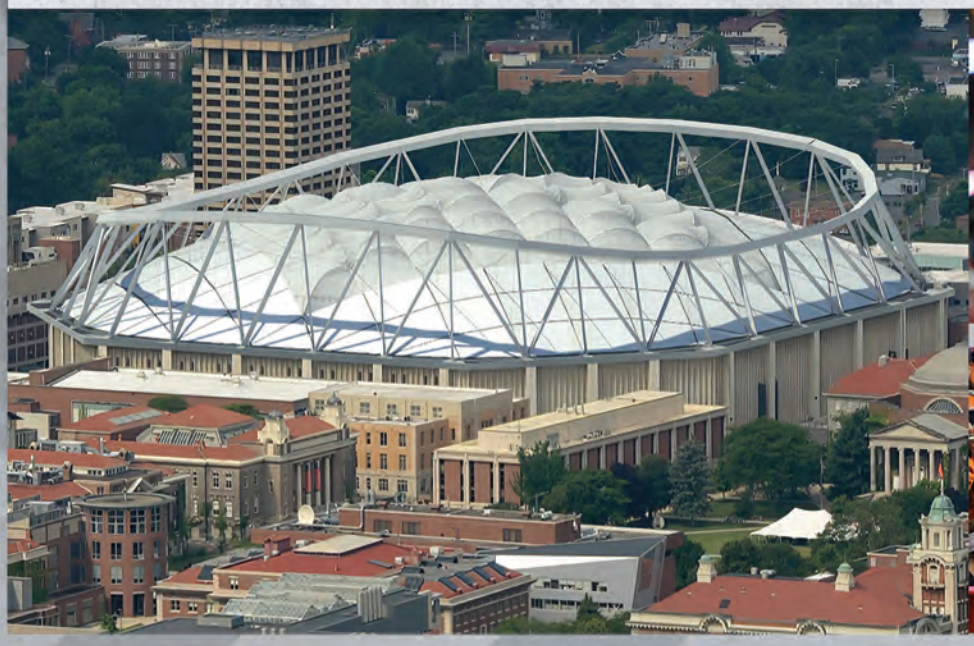
NEW YEAR'S SIX

During its illustrious history, Syracuse has earned invitations to all six games that make up the College Football Playoff – the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Fiesta, Peach and Cotton Bowls.



THE LOUD HOUSE

The Carrier Dome was the first stadium of its kind built in the Northeast. Since it opened in 1980, nearly 10 million fans have passed through the building's gates to watch Syracuse football. In 2018, the University announced a $118 million investment in the facility to create a new stadium experience. The renovations, which include a new fixed roof and center-hung scoreboard, state-of-the art lighting and sound and air conditioning were completed last fall, but Orange fans will get their first chance to see the new ammenities this season.



FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

The Ensley Athletic Center and Iocolano-Petty Football Complex stand as symbols of Syracuse University's commitment to providing an exceptional student-athlete experience. Named in honor of three-sport letterwinner Cliff Ensley, the 87,000-square foot Ensley Athletic Center offers a full-sized, indoor, FieldTurf practice field identical to the Carrier Dome. The Iocolano-Petty Football Complex embodies the long and storied tradition of Syracuse football. It features a Dome theater, state-of-the-art player lounge, athletic training and player recovery facilities, a locker room, dining facility, and multiple displays honoring the program's all-time greats.

Student-Athlete Academic Development

The Stevenson Educational Center, located in Manley Field House, is home to the Syracuse Student-Athlete Academic Development staff. The center features a computer lab, tutor rooms, career development suite and meeting rooms for both day and evening study-table sessions.

The educational center team is involved in additional activities designed to enhance academic performance. Orientation programs for incoming student-athletes are held at the beginning of the first semester to aid in the transition from high school to college. Career-planning programs assist those who are undecided on their major course of study. As student-athletes approach the end of their college careers, programs coordinated by the academic development staff help them enter the work force or explore opportunities for graduate school.

One of those programs is the "S Project," which is designed to provide student-athletes with proactive and continuing education. Through the program, student-athletes develop the skills necessary to excel in the classroom, maximize their athletic ability and prepare for post-collegiate success. The curriculum is centered on four areas – career readiness, financial education, healthy relationships, and wellness and personal development.

Staff members focus on the enhancement of academic performance through the development of study and communication skills, goal-setting, stress and time management, and individual tutoring and mentoring. Academic performance is monitored to ensure NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference and Syracuse University eligibility rules are met and that progress is being made toward graduation.

SERVING THE COMMUNITY

Giving back to the community is integral to the development of the overall student-athlete. Through the 'Cuse Cares program, Syracuse coaches and student-athletes log thousands of community service hours each year. The Orange football team has been a leader in that regard, earning multiple awards for service. In 2018, linebacker Kielan Whitner was named to the prestigious Allstate AFCA Good Works Team for his commitment to volunteerism. Last season, Syracuse Uplifting Athletes chapter president Sam Heckel was selected to the inaugural Rare Disease Champion Team for his significant and lasting impact on the rare disease community. Football also won the 2016-17 'Cuse Cares Award for community engagement, which included participation in Syracuse's annual St. Baldrick's Day benefitting childhood cancer research, Beads of Courage, Building Men and additional volunteer programs.

ACC TOP SIX FOR SERVICE

Presented annually to six student-athletes at each member institution, the ACC Top Six for Service Award recognizes those who demonstrate outstanding dedication to community service and outreach programs.

Since joining the conference in 2013-14, the Orange football team has had six individuals combine for eight ACC Top Six for Service honors, with former quarterback Zack Mahoney and former offensive lineman Sam Heckel earning the award twice in their careers. Both are past presidents of the Syracuse University chapter of Uplifting Athletes. Heckel was named to the organization's first Rare Disease Champion Team in 2019. Heckel organized two "Lift for Life" events during his tenure as president. The events combined to raise more than $15,000 to benefit the rare disease community.

THEACC.COM

The Atlantic Coast Conference's official website – theACC.com – is the source for complete conference football information. The media section of the website (theACC.com/media) offers additional information for use by media members, including access to ACC PhotoShelter, the home for conference and school logos, headshots of players and coaches from select sports and images from ACC events and championships.

ACC MEDIA PORTAL

Highlights & Press Conferences: The ACC and XOS Digital have partnered to provide individual highlight packages from all ACC-controlled regular season football and men's basketball games to approved TV news affiliates for the 2020-21 seasons. Upon the conclusion of each game, highlights will be available for local TV news affiliates to download and use in televised news programming at no cost. Outlets may access the highlights, along with any weekly head coach press conferences, through the ACC Media Portal. This portal replaces the ACC Video Clip Service (AVCS). The use of ACC game highlights provided through the portal remain subject to those restrictions outlined in the ACC News Access Guidelines. Interested affiliates should email licensing@xosdigital.com to register for the ACC Media Portal and for additional information. Approved affiliates will receive a confirmation email along with credentials to access the portal.

ACC Digital License: Per the ACC News Access Guidelines, game footage (station shot or broadcast) may not be distributed through digital platforms without a license. The ACC and XOS Digital now offer a turnkey digital highlight license specifically designed for local TV affiliates. This license covers the use of ACC game footage across official station websites, apps, and social media platforms. Distribution of in-game highlights on any platform during the broadcast window is strictly prohibited, regardless of a digital license. Interested affiliates should email licensing@xosdigital.com to receive more information or to purchase a digital license.

ACC NETWORK

Owned and operated by ESPN in partnership with the Atlantic Coast Conference, ACC Network (ACCN) and its digital platform ACCNX is a 24/7 national network dedicated to ACC sports that launched on August 22, 2019. ACCN features regular-season and tournament games from across the conference's 27 sponsored sports, plus a complement of news, information shows and original programming. ESPN has been televising ACC content since 1979 and has exclusive rights to every conference-controlled game across all sports and championships.

Carriage agreements are in place with the following video providers: AT&T U-Verse, AT&T TV NOW, Cox, DIRECTV, DISH Network, Google Fiber, Hulu Live TV, Optimum, Sling TV, Spectrum TV, Suddenlink, TVision, Verizon Fios, YouTube TV, members of the NCTC, NRTC and Vivicast, among others. All ACCN games will also be available on the ESPN app to authenticated subscribers. Fans interested in learning more about ACCN can visit GetACCN.com.

GALAXY MEDIA

The flagship station for the Syracuse Sports Network from Learfield IMG College is Galaxy Media's TK99 (WTKW 99.5 FM) in downtown Syracuse.

Since 2007, Galaxy's stations (TK99, ESPN Radio 97.7 and WTLA 1200) have served as the play-by-play home for Orange football, men's and women's basketball, and men's lacrosse. Additionally, head coach Dino Babers makes regular appearances on Galaxy programs, including the popular "Gomez & Lisa" morning show.

WAER FM 88.3

Located on campus, WAER FM 88.3 is Syracuse University's student-run radio station. The station broadcasts all Orange football games – home and away – live.

2021 SEASON OUTLOOK

The benefit of playing the 2020 season with the most freshman starters in program history and 16 different first-time starters, is that the Orange enter the 2021 season with significantly more experience than in prior seasons.

A second year under the two coordinators (both OC Sterlin Gilbert and DC Tony White were in their first seasons at Syracuse last year), plus a plethora of returning starters should accelerate the learning curve. The Orange also got great news from six cornerstones of the team, as Josh Black, McKinley Williams, Kingsley Jonathan, Airon Servais, Chris Elmore and Cody Roscoe all elected to return for this season. If not for the COVID-19 eligibility waiver, all six would have exhausted their playing eligibility last season.

The Orange are older and more experienced than they were a year ago. The team returns multiple players with starting experience at nearly every position. Syracuse has multiple players with starts under their belt at: quarterback, running back, wide receiver, the entirety of the offensive and defensive lines, linebacker and defensive back.

Heading into his sixth season at the helm of the program, head coach Dino Babers is hoping that experience translates to wins in 2021. So are Syracuse fans, who are eager to get back in the Dome to cheer on the team. Syracuse was one of a select few ACC teams that went the entire season last year without being able to host fans at home football games last year. Coupled with finally being able to unveil $118 million in stadium renovations, and Syracuse fans are eagerly anticipating the home opener on Sept. 11.

Here's a position-by-position look at the 2021 Orange:

Redshirt junior quarterback Tommy DeVito ranked third in the ACC in completion percentage (.632) in 2019. He threw 19 touchdowns against eight interceptions in his first season as Syracuse's starter, but was sidelined for much of the 2020 campaign due to injury.

QUARTERBACKS

Starters Returning: 1 • Lettermen Returning: 3

Syracuse has two players who have commanded the Orange offense as a starting quarterback returning in 2021, including Tommy DeVito, who was the starter out of camp in each of the last-two seasons.

DeVito, a redshirt junior, had his 2020 season shortened due to injury in week four. In his initial campaign as Syracuse's starter in 2019, he tied the program's sophomore record for TD passes (19) and completed 213-of-337 throws (.632) for 2,360 yards.

The other QB with starting experience at Syracuse is freshman JaCobian Morgan, who stepped in to make a pair of starts last year after injuries to DeVito and primary backup Rex Culpepper led to Morgan getting the nod, making him the seventh SU signal caller to start a game as a true freshman. He was 31-of-49 for 285 yards and two touchdowns on the season.

Syracuse also has an exciting newcomer that brings experience to the Orange QB room. Garrett Shrader, a transfer from Mississippi State, will look to compete for the starting job. In his freshman season with the Bulldogs, Shrader was one-of-three FBS freshmen QBs to account for 1,000-yards passing and 500 yards rushing. He did so in 10 games with just four starts.

Additionally, Dillon Markiewicz and Luke MacPhail are the other QBs that return for the Orange. Markiewicz saw minimal time in relief last season, while MacPhail has yet to see the field for SU. They'll be joined by talented freshman Justin Lamson. Lamson, a three-star quarterback out of California, was one of the state's top-50 recruits and the NorCal Offensive Player of the Year.

RUNNING BACKS

Starters Returning: 1 • Lettermen Returning: 4

Perhaps Syracuse's deepest position group, the Orange return four players with significant time over the last-two seasons.

Freshman Sean Tucker started the 2020 season at No. 4 on the Orange's depth chart, but due to injuries and opt-outs, found himself as the team's starter by week 3. He made the most of his opportunity, rushing for 626 yards and the second-most yards per game by a Syracuse freshman ever, trailing just all-time leading rusher Joe Morris.

Cooper Lutz was moved back to running back last season as well, seeing significant improvement throughout the year. His season culminated with a 113-yard game against Notre Dame in the season finale.

Two players who opted out of the 2020 season will be a welcome addition back to the Syracuse running back room as well. Abdul Adams and Jarveon Howard, who were both likely to receive a lot of touches in 2020, are back in the fold. Howard has 144 career carries for 652 yards and 10 touchdowns, while Adams has run the ball 95 times for 355 yards and five scores in one calendar year with the Orange.

Additionally, Syracuse signed Josh Hough in the 2020 signing class and added walk-on David Obeng-Agyapong to fill out the depth at the position.

WIDE RECEIVERS

Starters Returning: 2 • Lettermen Returning: 6

Each year of the Dino Babers era has featured a new receiving star:

- 2016: Amba Etta-Tawo, 94 receptions
- 2017: Steve Ishmael, 105 receptions
- 2018: Sean Riley, 64 receptions
- 2019: Trishton Jackson, 66 receptions
- 2020: Taj Harris, 58 receptions

In 2021, Harris is primed to be a repeat. He enters the 2021 campaign tied with Marvin Harrison for sixth on Syracuse's career receiving lists and a strong season could have him end the year at the top of the list for receptions in an Orange uniform.

Harris is the clear top target in the unit, but Anthony Queeley, a redshirt sophomore, cemented himself as a strong second option among the outside receiver groups. He started all-11 games last year, catching 37 passes for 378 yards.

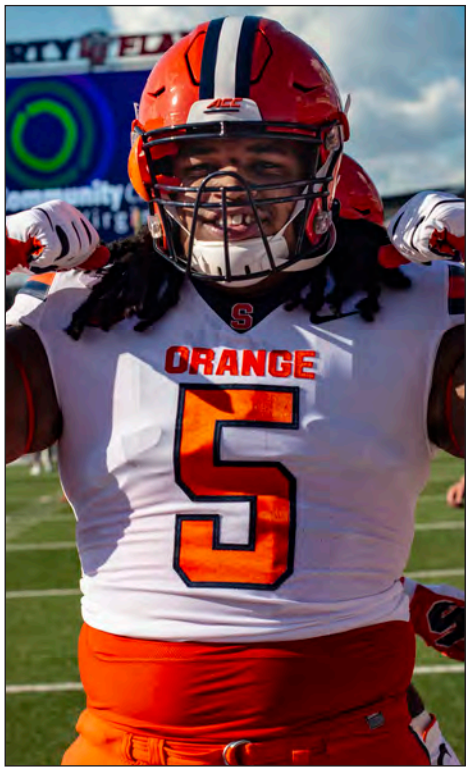
Returning letterwinners Courtney Jackson (10 catches in 2020) and Sharod Johnson (four catches in 2020) are primed to continue to see more opportunities, along with freshmen Damien Alford and speedster Trebor Pena, who also caught passes last season.

The group will be coached by Terrence Samuel, who joins the Orange for his first season coaching the group, but brings decades of wide receiver coaching experience to the program, most notably over 10 years at Michigan State.

WHAT RETURNS BY PERCENTAGE

Rushing Yardage	86.4
Passing Yardage	46.1
Receiving Yardage	76.6
Receptions	77.5
Punt Return Yardage	0.0
Kickoff Return Yardage	31.0
Scoring	77.6
Field Goals	100.0
Punting Yardage	0.0
Tackles	77.1
Tackles for Loss	81.4
Sacks	80.8
Fumble Recoveries	100.0
Interceptions	76.9
Pass Breakups	59.5
Takeaways	87.5

Running back Sean Tucker had one of the best freshman seasons by an Orange running back ever, logging 626 yards in nine games.



After a year at offensive line, Chris Elmore moves back to fullback for 2021, bringing back his popular No. 5 jersey with him.

TIGHT ENDS/FULLBACK

Starters Returning: 1 • Lettermen Returning: 4

Senior Aaron Hackett is gone from last year's roster, but familiar faces will step into the fold. TE/FB Chris Elmore moves back to his natural position after helping along a depleted offensive line last season, while Luke Benson is in his third year as a receiving threat from the position.

Benson made five starts last season at tight end and has caught 14 passes for 239 yards and five touchdowns over the last two seasons. He's averaging a staggering 17.1 yards per catch and was a 2019 Pro Football Focus Freshman All-American.

There may not be a better blocking option at the position nationally than Elmore, so much so that when injuries depleted the options at offensive guard for Syracuse, it was 'Rhino' that made nine starts up front before Dakota Davis was able to return from injury. His versatility has been crucial for Syracuse over the years. He has played tight end, fullback, defensive and offensive line to help the team.

Freshmen Maximilian Mang and Steven Mahar Jr. saw time on special teams last season. A native of Nuthetal, Germany, Mang brings a 6-foot-7 frame to the group. Mahar Jr. was rated the No. 4 prospect in New York and won a state championship at Aquinas Institute in Rochester.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Starters Returning: 5 • Lettermen Returning: 7

The entire starting offensive line is back for Syracuse, which is good news for a unit seeking continuity under first-year offensive line coach Mike Schmidt. The line saw drastic improvement as the year went on last year, after surrendering over 35-percent of the total sacks they allowed on the year in the first-two games of the season.

Airon Servais has started 48-straight games along the 'Cuse offensive line, which ties the program record for offensive linemen. He's a versatile option that has starts at center, left tackle and right tackle in his collegiate career. He spent time at both tackle positions last year.

Matthew Bergeron will likely begin the year as a third-year starter at offensive tackle after spending the last five games of 2019 and first four of 2020 at right tackle, before swapping to left tackle for the remainder of the season.

The guard spots were filled by Chris Elmore and Darius Tisdale for much of last season. While Elmore held his own in his first year at offensive line, a healthy Dakota Davis back in place of Elmore will be a welcome sight on the line. Davis has 15 starts and 29 games played in his three seasons. Tisdale started every game last season.

Redshirt junior Florida transfer Chris Bleich is also a possibility to supplant someone at guard after sitting out a year due to NCAA transfer rules. Bleich has high-level starting experience with the Gators in his freshman year.

Carlos Vettorello is another three-year starter for 'Cuse. He moved into the starting lineup at center in the 2019 season and started every game at the position last year.

Additional contenders for playing time include sophomore Mark Petry, redshirt freshman Anthony Red at tackle, and freshman Josh Ilaoa. Petry and Ilaoa saw time as reserves last season.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Starters Returning: 3 • Lettermen Returning: 7

No position group will benefit more from the NCAA granting everyone an additional year of eligibility last season than the defensive line. Kingsley Jonathan, McKinley Williams and Josh Black all chose to utilize their additional season of eligibility and return this season.

Jonathan, a CoSIDA Academic All-American, Jonathan has 10.5 sacks and 16.0 tackles for loss in his career. Black has 120 career tackles and 18 tackles for loss. He's started 36 games and appeared in 48 over five years. McKinley Williams, known as 'Bear,' takes up the middle of Syracuse's defense. He's got 50 career games under his belt and 99 career tackles.

Behind the Orange starters, Cody Roscoe, Curtis Harper, Caleb Okechukwu, Steve Linton and Kevon Darton all have experience on the defensive line.

As a unit, Syracuse's defensive line has appeared in a staggering 225 career games played combined among its eight most-frequent contributors, providing a valuable asset to set the tone up front in year two of Tony White's 3-3-5 scheme.

2021 SEASON OUTLOOK

Sophomore Mikel Jones led the ACC in interceptions last season with four.

Defensive back Garrett Williams was named a freshman All-American by The Athletic last season.

2018 Lou Groza Award winner Andre Szmyt headlines the specialists group.

LINEBACKERS

Starters Returning: 3 • Lettermen Returning: 5

For the first time in the last-four seasons, the Syracuse linebacking corps will return its two-most experienced tacklers. After losing its starters to graduation in three-straight years, 2020 starters Mikel Jones, Stefon Thompson and Geoff Cantin-Arku bring experience to the unit.

Jones had a standout sophomore campaign, leading the ACC with four interceptions and being part of eight separate 'Cuse turnovers (interception, fumble recovery, forced fumble recovered by the defense). That mark made him one-of-two players to be part of eight takeaways in the FBS, and he was named an honorable mention All-ACC player for his effort.

Another player to earn national recognition last season was Thompson, earning Freshman All-America honors from the FWAA. He was the first true freshman linebacker to start the season opener for Syracuse since 2011. He had 35 tackles, 7.5 tackles for loss and 3.0 sacks last season.

Cantin-Arku also made 10 starts at linebacker for the Orange last season and finished the year fourth on the team with 63 tackles.

Marlowe Wax is also a name to watch after a strong freshman year. He played all-11 games, making 33 tackles, 5.5 TFLs and three sacks.

Leon Lowery, Anwar Sparrow and Latarie Kinsler could also have impacts in their second year with the program.

SECONDARY

Starters Returning: 4 • Lettermen Returning: 6

This is the Orange unit that was hit hardest by departures. Three standouts are in the NFL from the Week 1 lineup last year.

Andre Cisco and Ifeatu Melifonwu were both selected in the third round of the NFL Draft in April, while Trill Williams signed a free agent contract with the Miami Dolphins.

Garrett Williams was named a freshman All-American by The Athletic and was near the top of the conference in pass breakups (10). His breakout redshirt-freshman campaign earmarked him as the veteran of this unit in 2021, despite only having 11 games under his belt as a corner.

Ja'Had Carter also made an impact as a rookie and was named a Freshman All-American by Rivals. Carter, who started the final-10 games of the season at safety in place of an injured Eric Coley, was second on the Orange with 67 tackles in 2020.

Coley started the season opener at safety before an injury sidelined him the rest of the way.

When Cisco went down just before the third game of the season, it was Rob Hanna who stepped in to start the final-nine contests of the year at rover.

Another player to see time after a future-NFL player went down was Aman 'Smurph' Greenwood. He stepped in for the back-half of the 2020 campaign (seven starts) after Trill Williams declared for the draft after an injury.

There's experience at four of the five DB spots that Tony White can pull from, but he'll have a newcomer or a player without much experience being the one to replace star corner Melifonwu. His options are likely either Neil Nunn, although Nunn is recovering from an injury suffered at the tail end of last year, Adrian Cole, who spelled Melifonwu at Clemson last year for a drive in one of the few times he came off the field, or true freshman Duce Chestnut, who is the highest rated of Syracuse's defensive recruits.

Other defensive back options among returners are Ben LaBrosse, who saw limited time last year, or Justin Barron, who converted from wide receiver to DB prior to the Louisville game last year.

SPECIALISTS

Starters Returning: 2 • Lettermen Returning: 2

The Orange placekicking chores rest on the impressive right foot of redshirt junior Andre Szmyt. A contender for the Lou Groza Award and All-America honors, recognition he received following his freshman campaign, Szmyt is Syracuse's all-time leader in field-goal percentage, having converted on 56-of-65 (.862) attempts.

Szmyt is a two-time All-ACC selection.

Another key component of the field goal unit, long snapper Aaron Bolinsky, returns as well. Bolinsky, a junior, has contributed on the Orange's punting and field goal units in the last four years.

For the second year in a row, Syracuse will have to replace a punter that is on to the NFL. After Sterlin Hofrichter was drafted by the Falcons in 2020, Nolan Cooney was signed by the Saints this past spring. James Williams is the likely candidate to step into that role. He was rated five stars and the No. 4 punter in the Class of 2020 by Kohl's Kicking.

Trebor Pena is a likely candidate to take over return duties. Pena already has a kickoff return touchdown under his belt in one of the seven return attempts he had last season.

DINO BABERS

Head Coach • Sixth Season • Career Record: 61-52 (.540)

A proven winner and respected mentor, Dino Babers was named the 30th head football coach at Syracuse University on Dec. 5, 2015. He owns a 61-52 (.540) career record and boasts nearly 40 years of experience in the profession.

Known for his innovative, ultra-fast offense, Babers enters his sixth season on the Syracuse sideline. Since his arrival on campus, Babers has reshaped the culture of Orange football by fostering an atmosphere of fairness, family and accountability. An adherence to those core values has allowed Syracuse's assistant coaches, staff and student-athletes to reach their full potential. On the field, the Babers era has featured record-setting production and a 10-win season in 2018.

In December 2018, Syracuse Director of Athletics John Wildhack ensured the growth of the Orange would continue under Babers by announcing a contract extension that keeps the veteran coach at the helm of the program well into the future.

GROWING THE ORANGE

Babers planted the seeds of Syracuse's revival during his first season in 2016. The Orange knocked off a ranked opponent for the first time in four years, toppling ACC Coastal champion Virginia Tech at home, 31-17. Additionally, he commanded an offense that set or tied more than 40 school records, including new season standards for completions (332) and passing yards (3,855).

Babers' second campaign also featured a signature win, as Syracuse handed 2017 College Football Playoff (CFP) semifinalist Clemson its only defeat of the regular season. The Orange edged the second-ranked Tigers, 27-24. The triumph was on par with the Orange's historic upset of No. 1 Nebraska more than 30 years prior and captured the attention of the nation.

Those flashes of success proved to be harbingers of what was to come in 2018, as Babers guided the Orange to the seventh double-digit win season in program history. The Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Team of the Year, Syracuse went from four wins to 10 and and posted a 6-2 conference record to finish second to national champion Clemson in the ACC Atlantic Division. The six-win increase matched the 1987 squad for the second-largest improvement from one year to the next in team history, and equaled Florida and Baylor for the best turnaround by a Power-Five team from 2017 to 2018.

The Orange opened the season with four straight wins and ended it with triumphs in six of their last seven games. Their 6-1 closing stretch included a 34-18 victory over West Virginia in the Camping World Bowl, the Orange's first postseason appearance since 2013. Along the way, Syracuse protected its home field by going 6-0 in the Dome, returned to the national polls for the first time in 17 years, and made its debut in the CFP rankings.

Syracuse rose to as high as No. 12 in all three polls during the week of Nov. 11, the program's highest ranking since 1998, and closed the season at No. 15 in the final AP and Amway Coaches polls.

For his efforts, Babers was named the AFCA Region 1 Coach of the Year, the third time he was voted the top coach in the region by his peers in the American Football Coaches Association. A finalist for three 2018 national coach of the year awards, Babers received co-ACC Coach of the Year honors from the Associated Press and was selected as the ECAC Coach of the Year.

Babers' vision for all three phases working together fueled the breakthrough. The Orange featured an electrifying offense, a tenacious defense and superb special teams. Offensively, the Orange ranked 11th nationally in scoring (40.2 ppg) and set the school records for most plays (1,063) and most points scored (523). They tied the all-time program mark with 62 total touchdowns, including a record 38 rushing scores. In 13 games, Syracuse scored 50+ points a school-record five times and topped 40 points on eight occasions.

Syracuse's opportunistic defense served as the perfect complement to the team's high-flying offense. The Orange ranked in the top 10 nationally in five defensive categories: turnovers gained (3rd - 31), interceptions (5th - 18), fumbles recovered (5th - 13), sacks (6th - 3.31 per game) and third-down defense (7th - .286). They also totaled a school-record 43 sacks.

A special teams unit led by All-ACC punter Sterling Hofrichter and Lou Groza Award-winning kicker Andre Szmyt completed the trifecta.

In 2019, Syracuse went 5-7, but finished the season strong, winning two of its last three. The Orange scored 30+ points five times and averaged 40.7 points per contest over the final three games of the year. Syracuse was among the best at taking care of the football in the passing game, finishing second in the ACC for the fewest interceptions thrown (7). Defensively, the Orange ranked fifth nationally in passes defended per game (5.67) and recorded the program's first true-road shutout since 1991 with a 24-0, season-opening victory at Liberty.

Entering 2021, Syracuse looks to rebound off a 1-10 campaign in 2020. Depleted by injuries, many young members of the Orange roster were thrust into action, providing valuable experience for the years to come. Defensive backs Garrett Williams and Ja'Had Carter, as well as linebacker Stefon Thompson were all named Freshman All-Americans by various publications.

Player development has been a hallmark of Babers' Syracuse tenure. He's coached seven All-Americans in five seasons. To put that perspective, Syracuse had one All-American in the four years prior to Babers' arrival in Central New York. Szmyt, who led the NCAA in nearly every kicking category in 2018, and safety Andre Cisco, who tied for the national lead in interceptions that season, were the fourth and fifth Orange players, respectively, to earn All-America honors under Babers. In 2019, Hofrichter added his name to that list. The Valrico, Florida native garnered seven All-America nods and became Syracuse's first Ray Guy Award finalist following a campaign in which he ranked No. 3 nationally in net punting average (43.03). Hofrichter's immediate replacement Nolan Cooney garnered All-America honors from Pro Football Focus in 2020 after setting Syracuse's single-season record for net punting (44.8 yards per punt), continuing Syracuse's tradition of success on special teams.

Receivers Amba Etta-Tawo, Steve Ishmael and punt returner Brisly Estime were Babers' first three Orange All-Americans. Quarterback Eric Dungey and receiver Ervin Philips are additional examples of players who flourished with Babers' guidance.

In 2016, Etta-Tawo left an indelible stamp on the program. He set 10 school receiving records in his one year with the Orange. He was an All-ACC First Team choice and was named to four All-America teams.

The following season, Ishmael picked up where Etta-Tawo left off. Ishmael ranked second in the FBS in receptions per game (8.8) and total catches (105). He also finished in the top 10 in receiving yards per game (4th - 112.2) and total receiving yardage (7th - 1,347). Like Etta-Tawo, Ishmael was an All-ACC First Team choice and an All-American, earning recognition from nine outlets, including four of the five NCAA consensus selectors.

Philips caught 179 of his school-record 223 passes in the two seasons he played for Babers. In 2017, Philips and Ishmael combined for an ACC-record 194 catches to close their careers ranked No. 1 and No. 2 on the program's all-time receptions list.

Syracuse has recorded three of the top four season total-offense figures in team history under Dino Babers.

A four-year starter who played three of his collegiate seasons for Babers, Dungey finished his Orange career as the holder of 25 school records. Among the most prominent are the all-time Syracuse marks for passing yards (9,340) and total offense (11,333 yards).

Overall, 26 of Babers' Syracuse pupils have earned All-ACC honors with five – Ishmael, Etta-Tawo, Hofrichter, Cisco and Szmyt – being named to the first team.

Twenty-five of Babers' former Orange players have gone on to sign NFL contracts, including draft choices Cisco, Zaire Franklin, Hofrichter, Ifeatu Melifonwu, Chris Slayton and Alton Robinson.

MAKING THE FALCONS FAST

Babers took over the Bowling Green program in 2014 and led the Falcons to an 18-9 record in his two years there, including victories over three Big Ten teams (Indiana - 2014; Maryland, Purdue - 2015). The Falcons went 8-6 in Babers' first season and captured the MAC East Division championship with a 5-3 league mark. Bowling Green lost the MAC title game to Northern Illinois, but rebounded for a 33-28 win versus South Alabama in the Raycom Media Camellia Bowl, BGSU's first bowl victory since 2004.

In 2015, Bowling Green was 10-3 under Babers and 7-1 against MAC competition to win the MAC East once again. The Falcons got the better of MAC West champion Northern Illinois in the league title game to win BGSU's second conference championship in three seasons. Babers presided over one of the most explosive offenses in the country, as the Falcons ranked in the top 10 nationally in first downs (1st - 389), total offense (4th - 546.8 ypg), passing offense (5th - 366.8 ypg), third-down conversion percentage (5th - .502) and scoring (6th - 42.2 ppg).

Babers mentored 17 All-MAC performers at BGSU, including 11 in 2015. Falcons quarterback Matt Johnson was the recipient of the 2015 MAC Vern Smith Leadership Award, presented to the conference's top football player, and earned MAC Offensive Player of the Year honors. In addition, Johnson finished second nationally in passing yards (4,946), touchdown passes (46) and ranked fifth in passing yards per game (353.3). He set the MAC single-season record for touchdown passes and eclipsed Ben Roethlisberger's conference record for the most passing yards in a season.

Another of Babers' charges – Roger Lewis – also had a standout 2015 campaign. Lewis finished second in the FBS in receiving yards (1,544), third in touchdown catches (16) and fifth in receiving yards per game (110.3). He became the first Falcon since 1994 to earn All-America honors from the Associated Press (third team) and he received second-team recognition from the FWAA.

EXCELLENCE AT EASTERN ILLINOIS

Babers excelled in his first head coaching position, leading Eastern Illinois to a 19-7 record in two seasons, including a 14-1 mark against Ohio Valley Conference (OVC) foes. His 2012 and 2013 Panther teams won the conference championship and earned FCS playoff berths. For his work, Babers was named the OVC Coach of the Year and the AFCA Region 3 Coach of the Year after both seasons.

In 2013, the Panthers finished 12-2, including an 8-0 conference record, and reached the FCS quarterfinals. The Panthers were ranked as high as No. 2 in the polls and led the nation in total yards (589.5) and points per game (48.2). EIU averaged 372.4 passing yards per contest and 217.1 rushing yards per game on its way to outscoring its opponents, 636-270. The offense was diverse with four different receivers totaling at least 700 yards and eight touchdowns apiece, and two running backs who combined for 2,539 yards rushing.

One of those receivers was 2012 Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year Erik Lora, who set league single-season records with 136 receptions and 1,664 receiving yards. Lora followed up his stellar season with 123 catches for 1,544 yards and a conference-record 19 touchdowns in 2013.

Upon his arrival at EIU in 2012, Babers took a Panthers team that had finished last in the Ohio Valley Conference in 2011 and led them to a first-place finish with a 6-1 league mark. It was just the fourth time in OVC history that a team went from worst to first in the span of a season.

THE $138 MILLION MAN

The cornerstone of Babers' Eastern Illinois teams was quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo, who won the Walter Payton Award (the FCS equivalent of the Heisman Trophy) after throwing for 5,050 yards and 53 touchdowns as a senior in 2013. Garoppolo, who now plays for the San Francisco 49ers, passed for 8,873 yards and 84 scores in his two seasons with Babers to transform himself into a second-round draft pick. After spending his first three NFL seasons with the New England Patriots, Garoppolo was traded to the 49ers in 2017. He signed a $137.5 million contract with San Francisco in February 2018, making him one of the league's highest paid players. In 2019, Garoppolo guided the 49ers to the NFC title and an appearance in Super Bowl LIV.

PROFESSIONAL BUILDING BLOCKS

Prior to taking the helm at Eastern Illinois, Babers spent four seasons at Baylor in various capacities. Before that, he worked for four years at UCLA as assistant head coach, running backs coach and wide receivers coach.

A native of San Diego, California, Babers has also made assistant coaching stops at Pittsburgh, Texas A&M, Arizona, San Diego State, Purdue, Northern Arizona, UNLV and Eastern Illinois. He began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at Hawaii in 1984. Babers spent the next two seasons in a similar position at Arizona State before landing his first full-time job at Eastern Illinois in 1987.

Babers' time at both Texas A&M and Arizona included stints as the offensive coordinator. In 1998, he directed an Arizona attack that ranked in the top 20 in scoring offense (15th) and total offense (18th). The Wildcats were 12-1 that season and finished fourth in both polls.

Babers has coached or recruited more than 70 NFL players, including 33 draft picks, four All-Pros (Lance Briggs, Matthew Slater, Josh Gordon, Az-Zahir Hakim) and three Pro Bowlers (Briggs, Slater, Gordon).

Thirteen of his protégés have been picked in the first three rounds of the NFL Draft, including six in the first two rounds. Arizona running back Trung Canidate was the first-round choice of the St. Louis Rams in 2000. Along with Jimmy Garoppolo, wide receivers Brian Alford (Purdue), Will Blackwell (San Diego State), Dennis Northcutt (Arizona) and Josh Gordon (Baylor) were selected in the second round.

A 1984 graduate of the University of Hawaii with a bachelor's degree in education, Babers started at three different positions (outside linebacker, strong safety, running back) for the Warriors during his career, while earning Western Athletic Conference All-Academic honors. As a senior, he served as Hawaii's special teams captain and was the squad's leading rusher.

Babers tried out for the BC Lions of the Canadian Football League before an injury in training camp ended his playing career.

Babers, who received his master's degree in education administration and supervision from Arizona State in 1987, and his wife, Susan, have four daughters – Breeahnah, Tasha, Jazzmin and Paris. Jazzmin was a member of the Texas A&M volleyball team from 2012-16. She is married to former Orange offensive lineman Koda Martin. Breeahnah married Vincent Palmieri in June 2018.

STERLIN GILBERT

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks • Second Season

Sterlin Gilbert is in his second season as Syracuse's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. A Texas native well versed in the veer and shoot, Gilbert has run offenses and coached quarterbacks at the FBS, FCS and high school levels. He was most recently the head coach at McNeese State prior to joining the Orange.

His first season with the Orange was spent by molding some of the youngest players on 'Cuse's roster, priming the offense to have more experience behind it in year two. Freshman Sean Tucker had a breakout rookie campaign, where he tallied the third-most yards by an Orange freshman on the ground in just nine games (626). Taj Harris also earned All-ACC honors at wide receiver, finishing in the top-five of the league in receiving yards per game.

Gilbert previously worked with Syracuse head coach Dino Babers for three seasons. They first joined forces at Eastern Illinois in 2012 and the pair transformed the Panthers into a fast-paced juggernaut behind the play of standout quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo. In his first season, Gilbert directed an EIU offense that ranked sixth in the nation in passing (334.9 ypg), seventh in total offense (470.9 ypg) and eighth in scoring (36.5 ppg). Garoppolo was seventh in the FCS in total offense (318.5 ypg), while receiver Erik Lora set the championship subdivision record for receptions (136) and led the country in receiving yards with (1,664) en route to being named the 2012 Ohio Valley Conference Offensive Player of the Year.

EIU was even better the next season, leading to Gilbert's selection as the 2013 FootballScoop.com FCS Coordinator of the Year. The Panthers led the nation in total offense (589.5 ypg), scoring (48.2 ppg) and ranked second in passing (372.4 ypg). EIU posted a 12-2 record and won the Ohio Valley Conference Championship. Garoppolo, now the starter for the San Francisco 49ers, won the 2013 Walter Payton Award (the FCS equivalent of the Heisman Trophy) as the nation's best player. He led the country and ranked second in FCS single-season history with 5,050 passing yards, while ranking second nationally and fourth in FCS history with 53 touchdown passes. Garoppolo, who was selected in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft by the New England Patriots, passed for 8,873 yards and 84 touchdowns in his two seasons under Gilbert.

In addition to Garoppolo, five more Panthers were All-OVC First Team choices in 2013, including Lora, who was a two-time consensus All-American. Lora led the nation in receptions with 123, which tied for second in FCS history, trailing only his own record of 136 catches in 2012. Adam Drake was just behind Lora with 85 catches for 1,305 yards and 13 touchdowns to earn All-OVC Second Team recognition. Both signed free-agent contracts with NFL teams.

The EIU ground attack was equally impressive, nearly producing two 1,000-yard rushers. All-OVC First Team selection Shepard Little racked up 1,551 yards and 15 TDS, while All-OVC Second Team performer Taylor Duncan had 988 yards and 10 scores. Tight end Jeff LePak, offensive tackle Dominic Pagliara and guard Collin Seibert rounded out EIU's All-OVC First Team selections and were named All-Americans.

In 2014, Gilbert accompanied Babers to Bowling Green. Gilbert served as co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for a unit that gained 432.9 total yards per game. BGSU achieved that production without starting quarterback Matt Johnson, who was injured and a year later would be named the 2015 Mid-American Conference Offensive Player of the Year. Gilbert mentored backup James Knapke, who threw for 3,173 yards despite only having 10 previous career passing attempts. The BGSU stable of running backs combined for 2,192 yards and 26 TDs, as the Falcons capped the season with a victory over South Alabama in the Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

Over the next four seasons, Gilbert coached at Tulsa (2015), Texas (2016) and South Florida (2017-18). Standout performances and elite offensive production highlighted each stop. Tulsa wide receiver Keyarris Garrett led the country in receiving (122.2 ypg), while quarterback Dane Evans was seventh nationally in passing (333.2 ypg) in Gilbert's one year with the Golden Hurricane. At Texas, D'Onta Foreman led the FBS in rushing (184.4 ypg) and captured the 2016 Doak Walker Award as the top running back in college football. At USF, the Bulls ranked in the top 25 in eight NCAA statistical categories in 2017 on their way to a 10-2 record. The following year, the Bulls averaged 444.2 yards of total offense and 31.5 points per game to earn a spot opposite Marshall in the Gasparilla Bowl. USF quarterback Quinton Flowers ranked in the top 30 in six NCAA statistics and set the school single-season record with 27 touchdown passes.

Gilbert's track record as a coordinator earned him the head coaching job at McNeese State in 2019. He brought the up-tempo spread to the Cowboys and they responded with a 7-5 season, including four wins in their last five games. McNeese State's offensive output improved in nearly every statistical category from the previous year. The Cowboys averaged 382 yards per game of total offense (+92 yards from 2018), 220 yards passing (+40) and 163 yards a game rushing (+54). They also averaged 26 points per game (+6), passed for 24 touchdowns (+12) and rushed for 12 TDs (+8).

A former standout quarterback himself, Gilbert enjoyed a successful career as a Texas high school coach. He was head coach at his alma mater, San Angelo Lake View, from 2008-10 and earned West Texas High School Coach of the Year honors in his first season. He was also a highly successful offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Temple High School in 2011 and Abilene Cooper High School from 2006-07.

Gilbert began his career as an assistant coach at Springtown High School from 2003-04 before moving for one season to serve as a graduate assistant at the University of Houston.

A three-year starter and two-year captain for Angelo State University, Gilbert led the Rams to back-to-back Lone Star Conference South Division championships. He concluded his college career fourth on the school's all-time total offense record list. In high school, Gilbert was a two-time all-state quarterback and the 1996 district MVP at Lake View, where he also earned Big XII Region All-America and All-West Texas 4A MVP honors.

Gilbert earned his undergraduate degree in kinesiology with a minor in history from Angelo State in 2002.

He is married to Teresa Williams and is stepfather to her two children – Sonia and James.

The Gilbert family (L-R): Sonia, James, Sterlin and Teresa.

TONY WHITE

Defensive Coordinator • Second Season

A disciple of defensive guru Rocky Long and the two-time Scout.com Mountain West Recruiter of the Year, Tony White enters his second season as the Orange's defensive coordinator.

In his first season at Syracuse, three Syracuse players earned Freshman All-America honors (Garrett Williams, Ja'Had Carter and Stefon Thompson) from various publications, linebacker Mikel Jones was one-of-two players nationally that had multiple interceptions, forced fumbles and fumble recoveries, and Ifeatu Melifonwu flew up draft boards into a third-round selection after a breakout junior season. Melifonwu was one-of-three Orange defensive backs from the 2020 squad drafted or signed in the NFL from the 2020 squad, joining Andre Cisco and Trill Williams. As a team, the Orange defense was phenomenal at creating takeaways in White's first season at Syracuse. The Orange finished third in the nation with 24 takeaways in 11 games.

White joined the Orange after serving as the cornerbacks coach and defensive passing game coordinator at Arizona State from 2018-19. He arrived in Syracuse after a short stint as the Sun Devils' defensive coordinator, a position he was appointed to in December 2019. He ran the defense in ASU's 20-14 victory over Florida State in the 2019 Tony the Tiger Sun Bowl, a game in which the Sun Devils shut out the Seminoles for nearly three quarters and scored a defensive touchdown.

In White's two seasons at Arizona State, the Sun Devils allowed just 13 passing plays of 40+ yards – a marked improvement over the 34 such plays ASU gave up in the two years before White got to Tempe. The Sun Devil secondary made dramatic gains in White's first year, climbing 50 spots in the NCAA's passing defense rankings. That growth continued in 2019, as Arizona State finished the year 12th in the country with 65 passes defended. Three of White's cornerbacks – Kobe Williams (2019), Jack Jones (2019) and Aashari Crosswell (2018) – were All-Pac-12 Honorable Mention selections.

Before arriving at ASU, White cemented himself as one of the nation's top rising assistant coaches during a nine-year stint (2009-17) under Long at San Diego State. While helping the Aztec secondary consistently rank as one of the elite groups in the nation, White was named the Scout.com Mountain West Recruiter of the Year twice (2011, 2013). He was also recognized as the top recruiter among non-Power-Five schools in 2014 by Rivals.com.

White's tenure coincided with one of the most successful eras in SDSU history. The Aztecs went to eight bowl games in White's nine seasons and won three Mountain West Conference championships (2012, 2015, 2016).

SDSU finished with pass coverage grades ranked 31st or better in three of White's last four years with the Aztecs, according to Pro Football Focus. In 2017, the Aztecs were 11th nationally and first in the Mountain West in total defense (314.5 ypg) and ranked 15th in the country in passing yards allowed (178.7). The strong showing followed a 2016 campaign in which San Diego State led the FBS with 26 interceptions.

One of White's star pupils, Damontae Kazee, was instrumental to the success. Kazee became the first cornerback in conference history to win Mountain West Defensive Player of the Year honors twice, capturing the award in 2015 and 2016. Kazee also garnered 2015 USA Today Second Team All-America recognition and was selected by the Atlanta Falcons in the fifth round of the 2017 NFL Draft.

White also aided the development of cornerback J.J. Whittaker during that period. Whittaker earned All-Mountain West Second Team honors in 2014 and 2015 and was an All-MW Honorable Mention pick in 2013.

In 2015, the Aztecs authored one of the top defensive seasons in program history en route to the Mountain West title. San Diego State ranked second nationally with 23 interceptions and was No. 10 in passing efficiency defense (108.71). The performance came after a 2014 season in which SDSU ranked third in the FBS in defensive passing efficiency (112.1) and surrendered just 10 touchdowns through the air (second among Mountain West schools).

In 2013, White earned Scout.com Mountain West Recruiter of the Year honors for the second time in three seasons. On the field, Whittaker had a breakout first year under White's tutelage. He led the Aztecs with 14 passes defended, good for the fifth in the conference.

The first time White's recruiting prowess was formally recognized was in 2011 when he was tabbed Scout.com's Mountain West Recruiter of the Year. Again the award was coupled with on-field success by his protégés. Both of SDSU's starting cornerbacks, Leon McFadden and Larry Parker, earned first-team all-league honors. Parker, who was named an honorable mention All-American by SI.com, led the Mountain West with seven interceptions to tie for fourth nationally in his first season as a starter. McFadden, who topped the Mountain West in passes defended twice in his career, went on to become a third-round draft pick of the Cleveland Browns in 2013.

White came to San Diego State after spending the 2008 season with Long at New Mexico. White was in charge of the Lobos' linebackers and mentored two all-conference selections (Zach Arnett and Herbert Felder). The 2008 Lobos ranked 26th nationally against the run, 45th in total defense and 46th in scoring defense.

Before moving to Albuquerque, White got his start in the college ranks as the graduate assistant for football operations at UCLA in 2007. White assisted with the day-to-day running of the program, recruiting administration and distributed player information to pro scouts. In 2006, White served as the head football coach at St. Genevieve High School in Panorama City, California, where he led the team to its best record in 13 seasons and coached two first-team All-CIF selections.

As a player, White was a three-year starter and four-year letterman at outside linebacker for Bob Toledo at UCLA from 1997-2000. White made 64 tackles as a senior captain in 2000 and earned the program's N.N. Sugarman Award for Best Leadership. After his collegiate career ended, White played four seasons in the Canadian Football League for the Ottawa Renegades (now the Redblacks) and Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

A 2002 UCLA graduate, White holds a bachelor's degree in history.

He and his wife, Angela, have a son, Anthony III, and a daughter, Ava.

The White family (L-R): Tony, Ava, Anthony III and Angela.

CHRIS ACHUFF

Linebackers • Second Season

A seasoned collegiate coach with an additional two years of NFL experience, Chris Achuff was named Syracuse's linebackers coach in March 2020.

Entering his second year with the Orange, the 'Cuse linebacking corps experienced success in his first season. Mikel Jones was one-of-two players nationally with multiple interceptions, forced fumbles and fumble recoveries. He also led all linebackers nationally with four interceptions, en route to earning All-ACC honors. Stefon Thompson was also named a Freshman All-American by the Football Writers Association of America. As a team, the Orange defense finished the year third nationally in takeaways.

Achuff joined the Orange after most recently serving as the defensive line coach for the Arizona Cardinals where he worked with former Syracuse superstar and 2019 NFL All-Pro Chandler Jones. Achuff spent two seasons in Arizona. He was the team's assistant defensive line coach in 2018 and was promoted to defensive line coach in 2019. In Achuff's first year with the franchise, Jones had a team-best 13 sacks as the Cardinals tied for fifth in the league with 49 sacks overall. Jones was even better in 2019. He finished second in the NFL with 19 sacks and tied for the league lead with eight forced fumbles to earn All-Pro First Team honors and his third Pro Bowl invitation. Combined with his 11 sacks in 2016 and 17 sacks in 2017, Jones became the first player in franchise history to record 10+ sacks in four consecutive seasons.

Prior to his time with the Cardinals, Achuff spent the first 19 years of his career at the collegiate level, including stints as the defensive line coach at Baylor (2008-16), Tennessee-Martin (2006-07), Charleston Southern (2005) and Chattanooga (2004).

During Achuff's tenure at Baylor, the Bears won back-to-back Big 12 Conference championships (2012-13) and he coached three All-Americans and 12 all-conference selections. Defensive tackle Phil Taylor was a first-round pick of the Cleveland Browns in 2011. Defensive tackle Andrew Billings was the 2015 Big 12 co-Defensive Player of the Year and Defensive Lineman of the Year, while also being named an All-American. Billings was selected by the Cincinnati Bengals in the fourth round of the 2016 NFL Draft.

Before his nine-year stint in Waco, Achuff worked for two years at UT Martin, helping the Skyhawks win the Ohio Valley Conference (OVC) title and advance to the FCS playoffs with a 9-3 record in 2006. UT Martin led the OVC and ranked 17th nationally in run defense and sixth nationally in total defense en route to its league title that season.

While at Charleston Southern in 2005, Achuff helped the Buccaneers win their first conference championship, while also achieving the first winning record (7-4) in school history. CSU was named the 2005 Division I-AA Team of the Year by College Sports Report. Achuff spent the 2004 season as the defensive line coach at Chattanooga after working for two seasons as a graduate assistant at Penn State (2002-03).

Achuff began his coaching career at his alma mater, Bloomsburg University, in 1998 as a student assistant working with the team's linebackers. Achuff then coached outside linebackers and led the strength and conditioning program at Bryant College in 1999. From there, he moved on to Kutztown University where he was in charge of the linebackers and strength and conditioning for two seasons (2000-01). Achuff spent the 2017 season at Navarro (Texas) Junior College working with the defensive line.

A native of Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, Achuff played linebacker and was a standout on special teams at Bloomsburg (1994-97) where he was a part of four PSAC championship teams.

He and his wife, Kim, have one daughter, Julia, and two sons, Carter and Tyler.

RENO FERRI

Tight Ends/Inside Receivers • Sixth Season

A veteran coach with strong recruiting ties to New York, New Jersey and the Mid-Atlantic Region, Reno Ferri is in his sixth year with the Orange. He was named tight ends coach by Dino Babers in January 2016 and began overseeing the inside receivers in 2018.

Ferri's work has helped the Orange produce three of the four highest total offense seasons in program history, including the second 6,000-yard campaign in the Syracuse annals in 2018. Additionally, his mentorship has aided in the development of Orange standouts Luke Benson, Aaron Hackett, Sean Riley and Ravian Pierce.

In 2020, Hackett tied Syracuse's career record for touchdowns by a tight end (9). He had been one of the best red-zone threats in the ACC for the last few years of his SU career. Hackett's six TD catches in 2019 were second among ACC tight ends and the most for an Orange player at the position since 2011. Riley, who signed a free agent contract with New England Patriots after the 2019 season, snagged 36 passes in his final campaign to finish No. 10 in school history with 119 receptions. Overall, 84 percent (100 out of 119) of Riley's career catches came in the two seasons with Ferri.

In 2018, Ferri's units contributed to a record-setting offense that powered the Orange to a 10-3 record and a Camping World Bowl victory against West Virginia. Syracuse tallied a program-best 523 points and tied the school record with 62 touchdowns. Riley led the team with 64 catches and ranked sixth in the conference in receptions per game (4.9) on his way to All-ACC Third Team honors.

Ferri's guidance of Pierce aided a 2017 Syracuse passing attack that ranked second in the ACC at 294.8 yards per game. Pierce caught 29 passes for 263 yards and four touchdowns, the most receptions for an Orange tight end since Beckett Wales had 35 in 2012.

Ferri arrived at Syracuse in 2016 after spending the previous five seasons at Towson where he worked with the running backs, fullbacks and tight ends. He was also the recruiting coordinator for the Tigers from 2011-15.

In Ferri's three seasons as running backs coach, Towson averaged more than 230 yards rushing per game and posted an overall record of 29-10. In 2013, the Tigers ran for more than 240 yards per contest en route to a 13-3 record and an appearance in the FCS title game.

Under Ferri's guidance, the Towson ground attack shattered virtually every school record. His 2013 stable of backs rushed for a school-record 3,830 yards and scored 55 touchdowns. In 2011, Ferri's first year leading the unit, the group averaged 229.9 yards per game, a mark that led the Colonial Athletic Association (CAA).

Individually, Ferri coached four Towson ball carriers who earned All-CAA honors and three FCS All-Americans. In 2013, former Baltimore Ravens running back Terrance West set the FCS season records for rushing yards (2,509) and rushing touchdowns (41). West was a first-team All-American and was named the CAA Player of the Year. As a freshman in 2011, West led the FCS with 29 rushing scores. He was tabbed the CAA Offensive Rookie of the Year and captured the Jerry Rice Award as the top freshman in FCS football. West entered the NFL Draft after his junior year and was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the third round. Ferri pupils Tyler Wharton and Emmanuel Holder also earned All-America honors during that time.

Prior to his stint at Towson, Ferri spent six seasons at Akron. He joined the Zips In 2004 as a graduate assistant coach for offense. The following year, he served as Akron's director of football operations and was part of a Zips staff that guided the team to the 2005 Mid-American Conference (MAC) title and a berth in the Motor City Bowl.

Ferri was promoted to wide receivers coach in 2006 and was named running backs coach the following season, a position he held for three years. During that time, he mentored All-MAC selection Bryan Williams and Dennis Kennedy. In 2008, Kennedy ran for 1,321 yards, the third-best season rushing total in Akron history at the time, and set the school season records for both rushing touchdowns (17) and total touchdowns (18).

Ferri was Akron's recruiting coordinator from 2005 to 2009, leading an effort that resulted in Akron landing the No. 1 class in the MAC three years running from 2005-07.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Ferri is a 2000 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy. A three-year letterwinner at running back, he was a member of the first Army West Point team to compete in Conference USA. As a rookie in 1996, Ferri was part of a nationally-ranked Black Knights squad that was 10-2 and played Auburn in the Independence Bowl.

After earning his bachelor's degree in general management with a minor in systems engineering, Ferri began his coaching career in 2000 as a graduate assistant at West Point.

A first lieutenant in the U.S. Army from May 2000 to March 2002, Ferri served as a fire direction officer and battalion survey officer. He also previously worked as a consultant for British Petroleum. A systems engineer, Ferri and his team designed and implemented a web-based tracking system for BP to monitor the 16,000 vessels responding to the Deep Water Horizon oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico.

Ferri and his wife, Rebekah, have four children – Giana, Zola, Sofie and Reno III.

MIKE LYNCH

Running Backs • Sixth Season

A versatile coach who has taught every position on offense, Mike Lynch is in his third season as Syracuse's running backs coach. In addition to tutoring the team's ball carriers, Lynch was Syracuse's offensive coordinator from 2018-2019. He served as the Orange's co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach in 2016 and 2017.

Overall, Lynch is in his tenth campaign working with Dino Babers and his sixth season with the Orange.

In his first year as sole offensive coordinator, Lynch directed a 2018 Syracuse attack that propelled the program to its first double-digit win season in 17 years and the No. 15 final ranking in the Associated Press Top 25 and Amway Coaches polls. Behind record-setting quarterback Eric Dungey, the Orange ranked 11th nationally in scoring (40.2 ppg) and set the school records for season plays (1,063) and points (523). The Orange tied the program mark with 62 total touchdowns, including a record 38 rushing scores. After the season, Lynch pupil Dontae Strickland signed as a free agent with the Arizona Cardinals.

In 2019, Syracuse tallied 30+ points five times and averaged 40.7 points per contest over the final three games of the season. The Orange were among the best at taking care of the football in the passing game, finishing second in the ACC for the fewest passes had intercepted (7). Running back Moe Neal was Syracuse's leading rusher for the second straight year and completed his career ninth in program history with 2,560 rushing yards.

Lynch's efforts were key to the emergence of Sean Tucker in 2020. The rookie became the third Syracuse freshman to post multiple 100-yard ground games and his 626 yards rushing represented the third-best total by an first-year Orange performer.

When Lynch first arrived in Central New York, he served as the Orange's co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach for two seasons. During that time, he laid the foundation for the program's breakout 2018 campaign. In 2017, the Orange were third in the ACC in total offense (456.3 ypg) and second in passing (294.8 ypg). Lynch's work with the offensive line paved the way for four 500+ yard total offense games. Offensive tackle Jamar McGloster, now a member of the CFL's Ottawa Redblacks, signed a free-agent contract with the San Francisco 49ers after the season.

Lynch's first year at Syracuse in 2016 marked the dawn of a new era for the program. The transition from a run-based scheme to the up-tempo spread favored by Babers resulted in more than 40 school records being set. Among them were new season standards for completions (332) and passing yards (3,855). The play of Lynch's unit was critical to the production. The Orange front five protected a collection of quarterbacks who ranked 11th nationally in passing at 321.3 yards per game.

Lynch came to Syracuse after helping run one of the most explosive offenses in college football at Bowling Green. As the co-offensive coordinator, as well as the offensive line and running backs coach for the Falcons in 2015, Bowling Green ranked in the top 10 nationally in first downs (1st - 389), total offense (4th - 546.8 ypg), passing offense (5th - 366.8 ypg), third-down conversion percentage (5th - .502) and scoring offense (6th - 42.2 ppg). The unit powered the Falcons to the Mid-American Conference (MAC) title and an appearance in the 2015 GoDaddy Bowl.

Lynch's tutelage helped produce seven 2015 All-MAC selections on offense, including linemen Alex Huettel (second team), Jacob Bennett (second team) and running back Travis Greene (first team). Huettel earned All-America honors from Phil Steele and was selected to participate in the 2016 East-West Shrine Bowl.

Before adding co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach to his duties, Lynch served as Bowling Green's running backs coach in 2014. That season, he mentored the trio of Greene, Fred Coppet and Andre Givens. The threesome combined for 2,192 yards and 26 touchdowns on the ground to help the Falcons capture the MAC East Division crown and win the inaugural Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

Prior to his stint at Bowling Green, Lynch was an assistant coach from 2005-13 at Eastern Illinois. He spent his final two years at EIU as the running backs coach under Babers and coached two 1,000-yard rushers. All-Ohio Valley Conference honoree Jake Walker ran for 1,133 yards and 12 touchdowns in 2012. The following season, Shepard Little was named to the All-OVC First Team after rushing for 1,551 yards and 15 scores.

Most of Lynch's first six years at EIU were spent coaching the wide receivers. While in that position, he guided the career of 2006 All-American Micah Rucker and led several productive units, including a 2011 Panther receiving corps that accounted for 20 of the team's 34 touchdowns.

Lynch got his first taste of coaching in 1999 as a restricted earnings coach at Montana. After a year with the Grizzlies, Lynch spent five seasons at Utah State. While with the Aggies, he coached three tight ends who signed with NFL teams. Chris Cooley, a two-time Pro Bowler, was the third-round selection of the Washington Redskins in the 2003 NFL Draft, while J.R. Suguturaga (Miami Dolphins) and Casey Poppinga (Pittsburgh Steelers) both signed free-agent contracts.

A Roseville, California native, Lynch was an offensive lineman for Sierra Junior College before finishing his collegiate career at Montana in 1997 and 1998. The Grizzlies combined to win 16 games with Lynch on the roster and reached the Divsion I-AA (now FCS) playoffs both seasons.

NICK MONROE

Safeties/Rovers • Sixth Season

Nick Monroe, who has won conference championships at each of his previous coaching stops, is in his sixth year with the Orange. He joined the staff in 2016 and served as Syracuse's secondary coach for two seasons before narrowing his focus to the Orange's safeties and nickelbacks in 2018.

Over the past two seasons, Monroe has co-directed a Syracuse pass defense that has thrived on creating turnovers. The Orange have intercepted 42 passes in 36 games (1.17 per game) since the start of 2018, including a streak of 17 straight games with a pick from Aug. 31, 2018 to Sept. 21, 2019. The streak tied for the third-longest in major college football since 2004.

In 2018, Monroe's first year in his current role, Syracuse's defensive backfield was fifth nationally in interceptions (18). His unit was directly responsible for 11 picks, including an FBS-leading seven by freshman Andre Cisco. The takeaways contributed to a 111-46 advantage in points off turnovers, as the Orange went 10-3 and won the 2018 Camping World Bowl. Cisco was voted the ACC Defensive Rookie of the Year and became the first true freshman in program history to earn All-America honors.

Cisco continued to flourish as a sophomore in 2019. He led the conference for the second year in row with five interceptions and ranked fourth nationally in interceptions per game (0.6). Cisco also tied for third in the ACC in passes defended per game (1.11) on his way to All-ACC Second Team honors. As a team, the Orange ranked fifth nationally in passes defended per game at 5.67 per contest.

In addition to his mentorship of Cisco, Monroe worked with Evan Foster from 2016-19. A three-year starter at strong safety, Foster concluded his career ninth among Syracuse defensive backs with 234 career tackles.

An injury to Cisco ended his 2020 season after two games but Monroe's protoge was selected in the third round of the 2021 NFL Draft by Jacksonville. The Orange accumulated 11 interceptions in 11 contests.

Monroe served as the secondary coach at Bowling Green from 2010-15. He consistently produced units that ranked among the nation's best and helped the Falcons to four straight bowl games and two Mid-American Conference (MAC) titles. Monroe's guidance also helped turn Jude Adjei-Barimah into a contributor in the National Football League. A defensive back for Bowling Green from 2011-14, Adjei-Barimah played 23 games (eight starts) for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 2015-16.

Monroe inherited an inexperienced unit at Bowling Green that featured four new starters. In two seasons, he molded them into one of the stingiest defensive backfields in the country. Featuring All-MAC performers BooBoo Gates and Cameron Truss, the 2012 Falcons ranked 13th nationally in passing defense (190.1 ypg) to help lift the team to an 8-5 record and an appearance in the Military Bowl.

The following season, the Bowling Green secondary was even better. The Falcons finished sixth in the FBS against the pass (170.9 ypg) and Gates earned All-MAC First Team honors for the second year in a row. As a team, Bowling Green won its first conference championship since 1992 and played Pittsburgh in the 2013 Little Caesars Pizza Bowl.

In 2014, his first season working for Dino Babers, Monroe successfully oversaw the maturation of safety Brian Sutton and the development of two young cornerbacks. Sutton's production skyrocketed from the previous season as he jumped from 43 to 102 tackles. In addition, rookie cornerbacks Nick Johnson and Clint Stephens combined for nine interceptions. The unit also featured Adjei-Barimah, who recorded 82 tackles. The Falcons won the MAC East title and defeated South Alabama in the inaugural Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

In 2015, Bowling Green posted a 10-4 record, won the MAC championship for the second time in three seasons, and earned a berth in the GoDaddy Bowl. Monroe's defensive backfield finished eighth in the FBS with 20 interceptions, including a team-high six picks by cornerback Alfonso Mack.

Monroe coached defense for six years at Colgate University. He instructed the outside linebackers from 2004-05 and then shifted to secondary coach in 2006. In 2009, he was promoted to co-defensive coordinator and helped implement a scheme that led the Patriot League and was 29th nationally in total defense (308.2 ypg) that year. Colgate was 9-2 and held seven of its opponents to 20 points or less. Monroe served as the team's recruiting coordinator for five seasons.

In his last three years with the Raiders, Monroe mentored four first-team All-Patriot League selections (Uzi Idah, Wayne Moten, Chris Ekpo, Cody Williams) and one second-team honoree (Moten). In addition, defensive back Demitri Diamond was named the 2009 Patriot League Rookie of the Year.

Colgate won a pair of Patriot League titles (2005, 2008) while Monroe was on staff and made two Division I-AA (now FCS) playoff appearances.

Monroe was the secondary coach in 2002 and 2003 at Allegheny College. He helped the Gators capture the 2003 North Coast Athletic Conference (NCAC) championship and earn a berth in the NCAA Division III playoffs.

Monroe was a four-year letterwinner at cornerback for St. Cloud State University in Minnesota. He earned his undergraduate degree in marketing from the school in 2001.

Nick and his wife, Nicole, have a son, Wyatt.

The Monroe family (L-R): Nicole, Wyatt and Nick.

VINSON REYNOLDS

Defensive Line • Sixth Season

A dynamic recruiter and teacher, Vinson Reynolds was named the Orange's defensive line coach in January 2016. He tutored the defensive tackles exclusively from 2017-19 before leading the entire unit again in 2020.

Reynolds' work with Syracuse's trenchmen has been a primary factor in the Orange's rise to becoming one of the most disruptive defenses in college football. Syracuse has 80 takeaways the past three seasons (2.2 per game) and owns a +25 turnover margin over that span. The Orange are one of two FBS teams (Arizona State is other) to rank in the top 15 in average turnover margin in both 2018 and 2019. Syracuse was fifth in 2018 (+1.0) and No. 13 in 2019 (+0.75).

When Reynolds arrived at Syracuse in 2016, he molded a young defensive line that featured future NFL Draft selection Chris Slayton and two freshman starters at defensive end. The results showed the following season, as his group of interior linemen contributed to a Syracuse defense that allowed 6.4 fewer points, 28.3 fewer rushing yards and 57.1 fewer total yards per game than the year before.

The growth continued in 2018. Syracuse ranked in the top 10 nationally in five defensive categories, including turnovers gained (3rd - 31), fumbles recovered (5th - 13) and sacks (6th - 3.31 per game). The performance helped spur the Orange to a 10-3 record and a Camping World Bowl victory over West Virginia. Slayton earned an invitation to the East-West Shrine Bowl after the season and was drafted by the New York Giants.

In 2019, Syracuse led the ACC and ranked 11th nationally with 12 fumble recoveries. Reynolds protégé Kenneth Ruff recovered two loose footballs to tie for team-high honors.

This past season the Orange were third in turnovers gained (24) and tied for sixth in fumbles recovered (11)

During his time with the Orange, Reynolds has made his mark on the recruiting trail. He has used his Midwest connections to open a pipeline to Syracuse, particularly from the state of Michigan. He also served as the primary recruiting coach for ESPN 300 quarterback Tommy DeVito.

Reynolds joined the Orange after serving as the defensive line coach at Western Michigan from 2013-15. At WMU, he was part of a staff that engineered one of the most impressive turnarounds in FBS history. Reynolds and the WMU coaches transformed the Broncos from a 1-11 team in 2012 into a program that earned consecutive bowl berths in 2014 and 2015. The 2015 Broncos were 8-5 and defeated Middle Tennessee 45-31 in the Bahamas Bowl, the first bowl victory in school history.

In 2014, Reynolds directed a Western Michigan defensive line that recorded 17 of the team's 29 sacks. The unit was part of a Bronco defense that finished third in the Mid-American Conference (MAC) in points allowed per game. Reynolds also was recognized for his recruiting prowess that year. Rivals.com named him to its list of the top 10 recruiters from schools outside the Power Five and American Athletic Conference (formerly known as the Big Six). That year Reynolds helped solidify, what was at the time, the website's highest ranked class (No. 58) in MAC history.

Prior to his stint in Kalamazoo, Reynolds mentored the defensive linemen at Central Michigan where he helped the Chippewas to a win over Western Kentucky in the 2012 Little Caesars Pizza Bowl. The group included Pittsburgh Steelers and Buffalo Bills defensive end Leterrius Walton, who was selected in the sixth round of the 2015 NFL Draft.

Before making the move to CMU, Reynolds was the defensive line coach at Central Oklahoma in 2010. He also previously worked as a graduate assistant and defensive quality control coach at Oklahoma State for head coach Mike Gundy. Oklahoma State made appearances in the 2008 Holiday Bowl and 2010 Cotton Bowl while Reynolds was on the OSU staff.

Reynolds started his coaching career in 2006 as the defensive line coach at Division III Wisconsin-Platteville.

In addition to his collegiate experience, Reynolds has completed two NFL internships. In 2015, he gained critical coaching skills and perspective with the Baltimore Ravens under John Harbaugh. During the summer of 2016, Reynolds worked with head coach Chuck Pagano and the staff of the Indianapolis Colts.

A Detroit, Michigan native, Reynolds played his college football at Northern Illinois from 2000-03. He was named to the All-MAC First Team at defensive end as a senior after totaling 76 tackles, including 15 for a loss, and six sacks.

Reynolds earned his undergraduate degree from Northern Illinois in 2004. He received his master's degree in adult education from Wisconsin-Platteville in 2007.

Reynolds and his wife, Cynthia, have three sons – Eric Coley, Josiah Reynolds and Jeremiah Reynolds. Eric Coley is a redshirt junior defensive back for the Orange.

The Reynolds family (L-R): Josiah, Vinson, Cynthia, Eric Coley and Jeremiah.

TERRENCE SAMUEL

Wide Receivers • First Season

Syracuse head football coach Dino Babers announced the hiring of Terrence Samuel as the Orange's wide receivers coach on Thursday. Samuel brings more than 20 years of collegiate coaching experience to the Syracuse staff, most recently serving as the passing game coordinator at UNLV this season following a nine-year tenure on the Michigan State staff.

"Coach Samuel has years of experience at the Power 5 level and has coached some excellent wide receivers in his career," Babers said. "He has an eye for talent! Coach Samuel has proven to recruit good players and develop them for the next level on and off the field. He will be a great mentor for these young men. I look forward to adding his experience both on the field and on the recruiting trail to the Syracuse University football program."

"Coming to coach at Syracuse feels like a full circle experience for me, as I almost ended up here during my recruitment as a player," Samuel said. "I'm excited to join this program and I thank Coach Babers and [Director of Athletics] John Wildhack for the opportunity."

Samuel's tenure with UNLV was limited to just six games, following a shortened Mountain West Conference schedule, but the Rebels' receiving corps under Samuel featured freshman All-American Kyle Williams, who set the program record with 5.8 receptions per game.

During his tenure at Michigan State, Samuel's wideouts earned All-Big Ten honors eight times in his eight seasons coaching the position group, including two Big Ten Receivers of the Year in Tony Lippett (2014) and Aaron Burbridge (2015). He also coached five wideouts who were selected in the NFL Draft during that time and saw six of his receivers make active NFL rosters after leaving MSU.

The Spartans made a bowl game in eight of his nine seasons with the program, including a pair of trips to New Year's Six bowls (2014 Rose Bowl, 2015 Cotton Bowl) and a trip to the College Football Playoff in the 2015 campaign.

Prior to his time in East Lansing, Samuel spent the 2010 season at Central Michigan, where he coached wide receiver Cody Wilson to a one of the top seasons in Chippewas' history. Wilson caught 83 passes and recorded the sixth 1,000-yard receiving season in school history (1,137).

Samuel spent two seasons at North Dakota State (2008-09) after serving as the offensive coordinator and running backs coach at Nebraska-Omaha in 2007 when the Mavericks won the North Central Conference Championship and had a 10-1 record. It was his third stop at Nebraska-Omaha. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Nebraska-Omaha in 1998. From 2003 through 2005, Samuel mentored the defensive backs for two seasons and was the special teams coordinator and outside linebackers coach in 2005.

His first full-time season coaching receivers came in 2006 at Southeast Missouri State. He also had a graduate assistant position at Arizona (2001-02).

A 1995 graduate of Purdue, Samuel was a four-year letter winner for the Boilermakers, which is where he first crossed paths with Babers. Babers was the Purdue wide receivers coach for the first three seasons of Samuel's collegiate career. While at Purdue, he was the recipient of the 1994 Kiwanis Citizenship Award, which is presented to a Boilermaker football player who excels most in the combined roles of player, student and community volunteer.

MIKE SCHMIDT

Offensive Line • First Season

Syracuse head football coach Dino Babers announced the addition of Mike Schmidt as 'Cuse's offensive line coach on Feb. 24, 2021. Schmidt has been coaching offensive line for over a decade at San Diego State, where he has mentored a unit that has paved the way for one of the nation's top rushing attacks.

"I'm excited to welcome Mike to the Syracuse football family," said head coach Dino Babers. "He has proven that he can develop players and I look forward to him bringing his knowledge and skills to our program."

"I want to thank San Diego State for the last 16 years of great experiences and development, Schmidt said. "I also want to thank Coach Babers for providing me with this great opportunity at Syracuse University."

Schmidt's coaching career at San Diego State began 12 years ago, after he graduated from the University. Since he took over as a full-time member of the staff in 2012, San Diego State ranked 15th nationally in yards per carry (5.0), 15th in rushing yards per game (216.9) and tied for 21st nationally in touchdowns (201) over that span.

In his nine seasons as the team's offensive line coach, 15 different offensive linemen earned All-Mountain West accolades, including six first-team honorees in the past six seasons. Schmidt has also mentored multiple NFL Draft selections, including Nico Siragusa (2017 - Baltimore Ravens), Terry Poole (2015 - Seattle Seahawks) and Keith Ismael (2020 - Washington Football Team)

In 2017, Schmidt's line paved the way for All-American running back Rashaad Penny to lead the nation in rushing. The year prior, Donnell Pumphrey became the NCAA's all-time leading rusher with 6,405 yards and the Aztec offense set program records in rushing yards (3,680), rushing touchdowns (34), yards per carry (5.8) and points (493). Under Schmidt's tutelage that season, Tyler Roemer earned Freshman All-America honors.

The rushing records broke those that were set in 2012, which was Schmidt's first year coaching the SDSU offensive line. Prior to him taking over the position, he worked with the program as an offensive graduate assistant from 2010-11. In that time, the Aztecs allowed the fifth (0.69/2010) and seventh (0.85/2011) fewest sacks per game in the nation.

Schmidt joined the coaching ranks after a successful playing career at San Diego State from 2005-08 that saw him transition from a walk-on defensive lineman to a scholarship offensive lineman and team captain in his senior season.

The Aztecs went to 10-straight bowls from 2010-2019 and posted a 10-win season in four of the past-six years.

CHIP WEST

Cornerbacks • Second Season

Chip West was hired as Syracuse's cornerbacks coach in February 2020. An award-winning recruiter with more than 20 years of college coaching experience, West came to Central New York after most recently serving as the cornerbacks coach at Marshall in 2019.

West went right to work when he joined the Orange staff. He was instrumental in developing one of the nation's top cornerback tandoms in freshman Garrett Williams and redshirt junior Ifeatu Melifonwu. The duo ranked first and fifth, respectively in passes defended among Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) performers. Williams earned freshman All-American recognition and was honorable mention All-ACC while Melifonwu picked up second team All-ACC from the Associated Press. Melifonwu was a third-round selection in the 2021 NFL Draft by the Detroit Lions.

In West's one season at Marshall, the squad posted an 8-5 record and earned a berth in the Gasparilla Bowl. He mentored 2019 All-Conference USA First Team honoree Chris Jackson, who finished his career as Marshall's all-time leader in pass breakups, and was selected by the Tennessee Titans in the 2020 NFL Draft.

Prior to joining the Thundering Herd, West was the co-defensive coordinator and cornerbacks coach at Charlotte in 2018 and held the same positions at Howard University in 2017. At Charlotte, West helped run a 49ers unit that ranked second nationally in first downs allowed (197), ninth in rushing defense (105.7 ypg) and 22nd in total defense (337.3 ypg).

From 2010-15, West worked as the cornerbacks coach at Virginia.He guided the careers of multiple Cavaliers who went on to the NFL and made his mark on the recruiting trail. In February 2014, Rivals.com and Scout.com each named West its ACC Recruiter of the Year. Three years prior, West was tabbed the 2011 ACC Recruiter of the Year by 247Sports.com and he was one eight finalists for the organization's national recruiter of the year award. Named Virginia's recruiting coordinator after the 2012 season, West spearheaded an effort that landed the Cavaliers numerous highly-rated prospects during his six seasons in Charlottesville, including two of the nation's top-10 recruits. Virginia signed three top-30 classes with West on staff.

As effective as West was on the recruiting circuit, he was equally as successful as a position coach for the Cavaliers. West mentored two-time All-ACC First Team selection Chase Minnifield, who played in the NFL with the Washington Redskins. He also coached New York Jets cornerback Maurice Canaday and Ras-I Dowling, who was a second-round pick in the 2011 NFL Draft by the New England Patriots. The Virginia secondary also featured Rodney McLeod, who won a Super Bowl with the Philadelphia Eagles.

A Hampton, Virginia native, West was the assistant head coach, defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator at Old Dominion for three seasons (2007-09) before joining the Virginia staff. In 2009, ODU went 9-2 in its first season as an FCS program.

Before his stop at Old Dominion, West coached at James Madison from 2004-2006. He oversaw the JMU defensive backs, most notably developing free safety Tony LeZotte, a 2005 All-American and the Atlantic 10 Conference Defensive Player of the Year. The Dukes won the Division I-AA (now FCS) national championship in 2004 – West's first season on staff – and finished 13-2. In 2006, JMU returned to the FCS playoffs, losing in the first round at Youngstown State.

In 2003, West served as the defensive backs coach at Fordham when the Rams were 9-3. His first full-time coaching assignment was as wide receiver coach at Colgate for four years (1999-2002). The Raiders shared the 2002 Patriot League title, posting a 9-3 overall record and a 6-1 league mark. Colgate led the Patriot League that season in total offense, averaging 392.5 yards per game, including 215 yards a game passing. In 1999, Colgate won the Patriot League title and reached the Division I-AA playoffs.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at West Virginia from 1997-98. He worked with the defense and was part of the staff that helped the Mountaineers earn invitations to the Carquest and Insight.com bowls.

A standout player at Kecoughtan High School (Va.), West earned All-CIAA honors as a wide receiver at Livingstone College. He received his bachelor's degree in computer information systems from Livingstone in 1993 and earned a master's degree in physical education from West Virginia in 1999.

West and his wife, Patrice, are the parents of five children – Zoe, David, Gwen, Justin and Jada.

SEAN EDINGER

Assistant AD/Athletic Performance • Sixth Season

Sean Edinger is in his sixth year as the football program's assistant athletics director for athletic performance. Appointed to the position in January 2016, Edinger is responsible for designing training programs to increase the conditioning, speed, strength and agility of Syracuse's football student-athletes.

Edinger has trained a host of collegiate standouts who have gone on to play professional football. Since Edinger got to Syracuse, 23 Orange players have signed NFL contracts, including draft picks Zaire Franklin, Chris Slayton, Alton Robinson, Sterling Hofrichter, Andre Cisco and Ifeatu Melifonwu

Prior to joining the Orange, Edinger served as the director of strength and conditioning at Bowling Green for two seasons, overseeing the strength and conditioning programs for BGSU's 18 sports. Edinger previously held a similar position at Eastern Illinois from June 2012 until 2014 when he accompanied Dino Babers to Bowling Green.

Before his stint at Eastern Illinois, Edinger was the head strength coach at Central Missouri. Edinger was directly responsible for all aspects of the Mules' strength and conditioning program. He also previously worked as the head strength coach for football and volleyball at Haskell Indian Nations University in Lawrence, Kansas in 2008.

A graduate assistant at Missouri for two seasons, Edinger worked with the Tiger volleyball and tennis teams. He also assisted with the football strength and conditioning program, helping players prepare for pro days and professional combines.

At Central Missouri, Edinger worked with quarterback Eric Czerniewski, who won the 2010 Harlon Hill Trophy as the top player in Division II football. Edinger's stint at Eastern Illinois included coaching current San Francisco 49ers quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo and record-setting receiver Erik Lora. NFL receivers Gehrig Dieter, Roger Lewis, linebacker Gabe Martin and 2015 Mid-American Conference Player of the Year Matt Johnson are just of few of Edinger's successful Bowling Green protégés.

Edinger is a 2006 graduate of the University of Kansas. He earned his master's degree from Missouri in 2008. Edinger is SCCC certified through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa) and holds a USA Weightlifting Level 1 Performance certification. A member of the U.S. National Karate Team for five years, Edinger has more than 30 years of experience in the martial arts.

Sean Edinger and Dino Babers have worked together since 2012 when Babers was hired as the head coach at Eastern Illinois.

AUSTIN BEEHNER

Director of Video Operations

Austin Beehner returned to the Syracuse football staff as the director of video operations in March 2013. He previously served as a video operations intern for the Orange during the spring of 2012, while completing his undergraduate degree in sport management at SUNY Cortland.

As Syracuse's director of video operations, Beehner is responsible for managing the internal video network, preparing game and practice film for coaches and student-athletes, supervising interns, and managing a staff of student camera operators. He also plays a large role in Syracuse's creative and social media efforts, creating a large portion of the video content fans see on Syracuse's social media platforms and recruits see on official visits.

Prior to rejoining the Orange, Beehner was the football video operations assistant at Ohio State from June 2012 through the end of the football season. He recorded, imported and edited game and practice film, managed the department's student assistants, and provided technical support for coaches and student-athletes. He also helped produce opponent breakdowns and self-scouting films for the Buckeyes.

In his first stint at Syracuse, Beehner was responsible for gathering and editing game and practice film. He also produced individual player highlight films and the 2012 senior banquet video.

KATIE BERARDI

Administrative Assistant for Dino Babers

Katie Berardi became the administrative assistant for head coach Dino Babers in August 2016. She is the primary liaison between Babers and Syracuse University staff, faculty, administration, the business community and the general public.

Prior to her current appointment, Berardi worked as the football program's office coordinator from 2007-16. She managed the daily operations of the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex and provided administrative support to assistant coaches, the director of player development, the assistant athletics director for athletic performance and the director of football operations. Berardi also served as a liaison with NFL scouting departments and the NCAA Eligibility Clearinghouse.

Berardi is a Syracuse University alumna. She received her bachelor's degree from the school in 2006.

Katie and her husband, John, reside in Jamesville with their son, Giovanni.

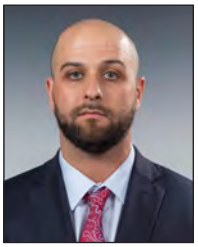
JOSH BRINGUEL

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

After a four-year playing career and a season as a student-assistant coach at San Diego State University, Josh Bringuel was added as a Defensive Graduate Assistant by head coach Dino Babers prior to the 2021 season.

Bringuel, who worked at both defensive line and linebacker with the Aztecs as a player, will be assisting with Syracuse's linebackers. While at SDSU, he coached First Team All-Mountain West linebacker Caden McDonald. He was part of the program that won the 2016 Mountain West Championship and Las Vegas Bowl and the 2019 New Mexico Bowl Champions.

A San Jose, California native, Bringuel saw time on special teams in his playing career. He earned a bachelor's degree in psychology and earned a graduate certificate in counseling at SDSU.



ADRIAN BRUNORI

Graduate Assistant (Offense)

Adrian Brunori joins the Orange football program for the 2021 season after coaching at Coastal Carolina in analyst and graduate assistant roles for the past-six seasons.

While with the Chanticleers, the program continued upward trajectory in his tenure, culminating in a 10-1 season that saw them reach a program-best No. 14 ranking in the final AP Poll.

A Pennsylvania native, Brunori played two seasons on the offensive line at UAlbany prior to his coaching career. He will be assisting in coaching the Orange's offensive line this season.

BLAIR CAVANAUGH

Quality Control (Special Teams)

Blair Cavanaugh joined the Orange staff in February 2019, and he's entering his third season as the Orange's quality control coach for special teams.

Syracuse has seen punters earn All-ACC honors in each of Cavanaugh's first-two seasons at Syracuse. Sterling Hofrichter, who now plays for the Atlanta Falcons, was a finalist for the Ray Guy Award and was a consensus All-American in 2019. Last year, Nolan Cooney earned all-conference honors and was named an All-American by Pro Football Focus.

Before coming to Syracuse, Cavanaugh was a graduate assistant at Ball State from 2017-18. He helped coach the Cardinals wide receivers, including 2018 All-MAC selections Riley Miller and Justin Hall. Cavanaugh also made a brief stop at Nebraska as an offensive staff volunteer.

Cavanaugh played his college football at Portland State and Oregon State. A wide receiver himself, Cavanaugh began his career with Oregon State and was a member of OSU's 2012 Alamo Bowl and 2013 Hawaii Bowl teams. In 2012, he was named Oregon State's Offensive Scout Team Player of the Year. Cavanaugh played his final two seasons at Portland State and helped the Vikings to the 2015 FCS playoffs.

Cavanaugh earned his bachelor's degree in social science from Portland State in 2016. His father, Mike, previously served as Syracuse's offensive line coach.

SUPPORT STAFF

TYLER CADY

Assistant Director/Athletic Communications

Tyler Cady joined the athletic communications staff in July, 2014 and is the media relations contact for football, men's lacrosse and cross country/track and field, while also assisting in the implementation and execution of the department's digital and social media strategy and content creation.

In addition to his current sports, Cady has previously overseen field hockey, ice hockey and tennis in earlier roles at SU.

Prior to his appointment at Syracuse, Cady worked as a graduate assistant at Canisius College, while earning his master's degree. At Canisius, Cady was responsible for the communications efforts for women's lacrosse, women's soccer, cross country, track and field, swimming and diving, synchronized swimming and rowing, while assisting with men's and women's basketball, ice hockey and men's lacrosse.

Before graduating from Canisius in 2014, Cady earned his bachelor's degree from the University at Buffalo in 2012.

In his time at Syracuse, Cady has been a key factor in the growth of the social media accounts at SU. Syracuse's men's lacrosse account is consistently among the top men's lacrosse accounts nationally in terms of engagement, it also has been built into the most followed college lacrosse team in the nation. While in charge of the ice hockey, field hockey and cross country twitter accounts, each has experienced some of the largest growth in followers nationally in its respective sports during that time. He also runs the Syracuse football program's social media platforms and assists with the Orange men's basketball and main department social media accounts.

BRITNEY CLARKE

Associate Director/Head of Football Academics & Tutorial Services

Britney Clarke joined Syracuse's Student-Athlete Academic Development staff as an academic coordinator in 2015 and was most recently promoted to the Associate Director of student-athlete development/Head of Football Academic and Tutorial Services, following a three-year stint as the assistant director.

Clarke monitors and tracks the initial and continuing eligibility of football student-athletes. She leads all aspects of academic support, including arranging tutors, academic monitoring and reporting, advising, and orientations. She is responsible for keeping coaches informed of student-athletes' academic progress, the APR and eligibility concerns. Additionally, Clarke works with other Student-Athlete Academic Development staff members to implement life-skills programming.

Prior to coming to Syracuse, Clarke was an academic counselor at Arizona from 2013-15. While with the Wildcats, she worked with the women's track & field and gymnastics teams, ensuring those 100-125 student-athletes met NCAA eligibility requirements.

Before being promoted to full-time, Clarke completed an internship from May to July 2013 in the Arizona Academic Services Department. In that role, she developed a campus-level transitions course for first-year student-athletes. The course focused on identifying transferrable skills and expanding upon their identities as athletes.

Clarke began her academic counseling career as a graduate assistant at Stephen F. Austin from July 2012 to May 2013.

A 2012 University of Miami graduate, Clarke was a multi-event athlete for the Hurricanes track & field team for four seasons. She competed in both the pentathlon and heptathlon, finishing eighth in the pentathlon at the ACC Indoor Track & Field Championship as a senior. She also is an assistant coach with the Le Moyne College track and field teams.

Clarke received her bachelor's degree in exercise physiology from Miami. She earned her master's degree in higher education from Arizona in 2015.

KENDALL COLEMAN

Graduate Assistant (Offense/Special Teams)

A four-year starter at Syracuse before a stint as a free agent with the Indianapolis Colts, Orange standout Kendall Coleman has returned to Syracuse to join Dino Babers' coaching staff for the 2021 season.

Coleman, who starred on the Syracuse defensive line from 2016-19, will be assisting with the offensive line and special teams as a graduate assistant.

A team captain in 2019 and recipient of the Bill Horr Award as the team's most valuable player, Coleman started 43 games in his collegiate career, logging 137 tackles, 26.5 tackles for loss and 15.5 sacks. After attending the 2020 NFL Scouting Combine, he signed with the Colts.

Coleman was a large part of Syracuse's 10-win season in 2018 as a junior. An All-ECAC First Team honoree, he was second in the ACC with 10.0 sacks for the season and was eighth nationally with 0.83 sacks per game. He set the Camping World Bowl record and tied Syracuse's bowl record with 3.0 sacks against West Virginia.

He earned his degree from Syracuse in human development and family science.

KRAMER COOK

Director of Recruiting Operations

Kramer Cook was promoted to director of recruiting operations in October 2018. Cook joined the Orange staff as a recruiting quality control assistant in November 2016 and served as Syracuse's assistant director of recruiting before assuming his current position.

Cook is in charge of Syracuse's efforts to identify and attract the nation's top football prospects.

Before his arrival in Central New York, Cook served as the football recruiting and technology analyst at Coastal Carolina. He was elevated to that position in July 2016 after working as the Chanticleers' senior recruiting and technology intern for a year. In those roles, Cook coordinated the program's on-campus recruiting efforts, managed official visits for prospective student-athletes, and led tours for recruits and their families. Additionally, he implemented a comprehensive training program for incoming freshmen to aid in their development as student-athletes. He also oversaw the social media content for the Chanticleers' Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and Snapchat accounts.

Prior to his time at Coastal Carolina, Cook was a graduate assistant coach at Robert Morris University in Chicago. From 2013-14, he worked with the team's defensive line and placekickers. Cook also assisted in the development of rush schemes and game plans for the Eagles, who boasted the No. 1 rushing defense (75.8 ypg) in the NAIA in 2014. Cook organized the scout team offense each week and served as the team's head of recruitment for all junior-college prospects.

Cook graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire in 2012 with a bachelor's degree in psychology and a minor in coaching. In addition, he holds two graduate degrees from Robert Morris, one in sport administration and one in business administration.

KYLE FETTERLY

Head Equipment Manager

Kyle Fetterly has been the head equipment manager at Syracuse University since 1983. He is responsible for all athletics equipment purchasing, reconditioning, maintenance and inventory control.

Fetterly previously worked as the Orange's assistant equipment manager and as a student equipment manager. He is certified by the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA) and has been involved with the organization since entering the field. He's served on various boards, including Nike, Schutt, Bike, Brine and Champion in an effort to enhance the protective equipment for all sports. He is a frequent speaker at national and regional AEMA workshops. Fetterly has staffed 15 bowl games for the football team, including the 2018 Camping World Bowl.

Fetterly, who lives in Liverpool, earned his bachelor's degree in retail management from Syracuse in May 2009.

DAVID GETTIS

Quality Control (Offense)

Former NFL receiver David Gettis is in his fourth year as a quality control coach for the Orange. Gettis played two seasons for the Carolina Panthers and also spent time with the Washington Redskins, Tampa Bay Buccaneers and the Canadian Football League's Winnipeg Blue Bombers during his pro career.

A collegiate standout at Baylor from 2006-09, Gettis played for Syracuse head coach Dino Babers for two seasons when Babers was Baylor's wide receivers coach.

Gettis finished his college career ranked seventh at Baylor in career receiving yards (1,555), tied for eighth all-time in receptions (116) and eighth in kick return average (22.7).

A 2009 All-Big 12 Honorable Mention choice, Gettis was selected by the Carolina Panthers in the sixth round of the 2010 NFL Draft. He played a combined 17 games for the Panthers from 2010-12. As a rookie in 2010, he tallied 37 receptions for 508 yards and a team-high three touchdown catches. He also returned eight kickoffs for 145 yards.

In 2015, Gettis returned to Baylor to complete his undergraduate degree and spent the 2015 football season as a student coach for the Bears. He worked as a graduate assistant on Coach Jim Grobe's Baylor staff the following year.

Gettis received his first full-time coaching job in 2017, serving as the wide receivers coach for the University of Texas Permian Basin.

A native of Los Angeles, California, Gettis holds a bachelor's degree in health, kinesiology and leisure studies from Baylor.

GINO GIGLIOTTI

Quality Control (Recruiting)

Gino Gigliotti joined the Orange recruiting staff in 2019 and was promoted to recruiting quality control assistant in March 2020. Gigliotti aids in the program's initiatives to attract the best possible student-athletes to Syracuse University.

Gigliotti's previous experience includes a two-year stint at Coastal Carolina. He was hired as a recruiting and video technology intern for Chanticleers in 2017 and spent the 2018 season as a recruiting analyst. Gigliotti's duties included organizing recruiting schedules for coaches, watching and evaluating game film, assisting with official visits and helping maintain Coastal Carolina's recruiting board.

In addition to his work with the Chanticleers, Gigliotti was a manager and defensive quality control coach for SUNY Cortland in 2016. He analyzed practice and game film, signaled in defensive plays from the sideline during games, and led the film distribution to Red Dragon players and coaches.

A Cortland graduate, Gigliotti holds a bachelor's degree in sport management.

TRAVIS GREENE

Offensive Analyst

The all-time leading rusher at Bowling Green, Travis Greene is in his fourth season on the Syracuse staff. He was named an offensive analyst in the spring of 2021 after previously serving in graduate assistant and quality control positions.

Greene joined the Orange program in 2018 and assisting in coaching the Orange's most prolific scoring season in program history.

Greene was a running back for the Falcons for three seasons. He rushed for a school-record 3,852 yards, including 1,299 yards and 15 touchdowns as a senior captain in 2015 to help BGSU capture the Mid-American Conference (MAC) title in their second year under Dino Babers. Greene previously set the Bowling Green single-season rushing record with 1,594 yards in 2013.

A two-time All-MAC selection, Greene helped the Falcons to two conference titles, three MAC championship game appearances, and a victory in the 2014 Raycom Media Camellia Bowl. He was voted MVP of the 2015 league championship game after running for a career-high 183 yards and two touchdowns versus Northern Illinois.

Greene was briefly a member of the Canadian Football League's Ottawa Redblacks following his collegiate career.

Greene received his bachelor's degree in liberal arts from Bowling Green in 2015. He earned a master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation at Syracuse in 2020.

Greene's brother, Trent, was previously a defensive graduate assistant for the Orange from 2017-19.

Leslie began working as an Academic Support Assistant in 2017, before being promoted to a Academic Coordinator for the 2018-19 academic year. In addition to his current sports, Leslie has also worked with both the men's and women's rowing programs at SU.

Prior to Syracuse, Leslie worked in development with the West Virginia University Alumni Association. He also holds a master's degree in sports management from WVU.

Leslie graduated with a bachelor's degree in business administration with a minor in sports communication from the University of Detroit Mercy. While with the Titans, he was a four-year starter on the men's soccer team and was a two-time captain.

DEON MADDOX

Director of High School Relations

Former Syracuse wideout Deon Maddox is returning to his alma mater to serve as the Orange's Director of High School Relations, head coach Dino Babers announced.

Maddox '95 M'00 joins the Orange with experience as a high school athletic director, administrator, or coach at numerous schools in his home state of Florida and has collegiate coaching experience as well, following a stint at Eastern Michigan.

"Deon's expertise at the high school level make him a great addition to our staff," Babers said. "I'm thrilled to welcome Deon and his family back to Syracuse."

"I'm very thankful to Coach Babers for the opportunity to return to SU and work with the tremendous staff that he has assembled," Maddox said. "Everything I've experienced and accomplished in the last 29 years has prepared me for this position.

"I look forward to working with the staff, the SU football family, and alumni to identify and assist future student-athletes on beginning their journey at Syracuse University."

A four-year letterman at Syracuse, Maddox caught 48 passes for 672 yards and three touchdowns. The Orange went 9-3 in each of his last two seasons at SU, with victories in the Gator Bowl and Liberty Bowl in those seasons. Maddox was also a BIG EAST Conference All-Academic honoree and the recipient of the 1996 Liberty Bowl Scholar Athlete Award .

Following a successful career at 'Cuse, Maddox spent the 1997 season with the Detroit Lions and was drafted by NFL Europe.

Maddox returned to the Tampa area where he served as the offensive coordinator for Middleton High School from 2002-06. He then spent four years as an assistant principal at Armwood High School in Tampa.

Maddox's previous collegiate experience came at Eastern Michigan where he spent two seasons as the wide receivers coach for the Eagles, who saw a four-win improvement in his second season in 2011.

Maddox most recently served as a student success coach in the Hillsborough County Public School System.

KEVIN McGARRY

Analyst (Defense)

Kevin McGarry enters his second season as a defensive analyst in 2021, following a first season at SU that saw a trio of Orange freshman defenders earn Freshman All-America honors from various publications and the defensive unit as a whole was near the top of the nation in takeaways.

McGarry joined the Orange staff following a 11-year stint at San Diego State, where he held various roles on Rocky Long's staff. He coached linebackers, defensive line and special teams, was the director of player personnel and director of on campus recruiting in his roles through the years with the Aztecs.

McGarry has head coaching experience under his belt, serving as the head coach at the University of San Diego for eight seasons. He has a 39-37 record as a head coach, with five .500-or-better seasons and saw his squads earn a national ranking on three occasions. He took over as the head coach there after a 15-year tenure as the Toreros' defensive coordinator and a member of the staff for 26 seasons and was named the conference coach of the year in 2002.

He has a bachelor's degree in English/diversified liberal arts and a master's in educational administration from the University of San Diego. He and his wife Mary Ann have four sons, Pat, Mike, Timbo and Matt.

She graduated from South Carolina in 2019 with a master's degree in advanced athletic training.

TIM PIKE

Head Athletic Trainer for Football

Tim Pike was named head athletic trainer for the Syracuse football program in 2017. He manages all phases of athletic training for the Orange, including the treatment of injuries, rehabilitation and game coverage.

Pike has 14 seasons of college football experience. Before joining the Orange, Pike served as the head athletic trainer at Marshall from 2014-2016.

At Marshall, Pike oversaw a sports medicine staff of nine full-time employees. His primary sport assignment was football where he coordinated all athletic training aspects for the Thundering Herd.

Prior to his stint at Marshall, Pike spent seven seasons as the head athletic trainer for football at Eastern Kentucky. In addition to working with the Colonels' football team, Pike supervised EKU's athletic training graduate assistants and managed secondary insurance needs for all student-athletes.

Pike got his start as a student athletic trainer at the University of Kentucky, covering men's soccer, baseball and assisting with football, from 1998-2001. He also served as a graduate assistant at North Carolina from 2001-03.

Outside of collegiate athletics, Pike's experience includes providing athletic training services and working as a clinical supervisor. While in Kentucky, he lent his expertise to area high schools, St. Catharine College and the Lexington Horsemen indoor football team.

A noted speaker, Pike has presented on numerous topics at athletic training conventions and symposiums during his career. He holds several professional certifications and memberships.

Pike earned his undergraduate degree in exercise science from Kentucky in 2001. He received his master's degree in exercise and sport science with an emphasis on athletic training from North Carolina in 2003.

Pike and his wife, Kelli, have two sons – Kaleb and Kamden.

LAURENE PORILLO

Administrative Specialist for Recruiting

As the administrative specialist for recruiting, Laurene Porillo supports the football staff in its efforts to attract the best possible talent to Syracuse University. She helps maintain the recruiting database and assists in the coordination of official and unofficial visits. Porillo also serves as the liaison for incoming student-athletes and their families during the admissions process.

Porillo, who joined the football staff in 2003, received her associate's degree from SUNY Canton. Prior to joining the football office, Porillo held various administrative positions in the legal, business and real estate fields.

She and her husband, Nick, reside in Liverpool. They have two children, Matthew and Meghan.

JACK POTENZA

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

Syracuse alum Jack Potenza is in his second season as a defensive graduate assistant. Potenza served as a recruiting office assistant and student coach for the Orange as an undergraduate.

A native of Fairfield, Connecticut, Potenza was a two-sport athlete in football (quarterback) and lacrosse (midfielder) at St. Lawrence University before transferring to Syracuse.

Upon arriving in Central New York, Potenza spent the 2018 season assisting Director of Recruiting Operations Kramer Cook with prospect summaries and analysis. In 2019, he was assigned to defensive line coach Vinson Reynolds and assisted in the planning of defensive individual and scout team practice periods. He also created film breakdowns and tendency reports of opposing offensive linemen for the Orange front four.

In addition to his work at Syracuse, Potenza also has experience at the professional level. In 2018 and 2019, he spent the summer as a Washington Redskins training camp intern.

Potenza holds a bachelor's degree in economics from Syracuse. He is enrolled in the instructional design, development and evaluation graduate program.

TYLER RADEMACHER

Equipment Intern

Tyler Rademacher enters his fourth season with the Syracuse football program in 2021.

He is one-of-two people whose primary role is to oversee the outfitting, upkeep and maintenance of equipment and apparel for the Orange football team both at home and on the road.

Rademacher joined Syracuse prior to the 2018 season. He previously had stops with the Atlanta Falcons and Arizona Cardinals. A 2016 graduate of Central Michigan, Rademacher was a student manager for the Chippewas football program while earning a bachelor's degree in sport management, with a minor in marketing.

LANEAR SAMPSON

Analyst (Offense)

Lanear Sampson returns to Syracuse for the 2021 season in what will be his second stint on Babers' Orange staff. He'll serve as an offensive analyst for the program.

Sampson was most recently an offensive quality control coach at UCF, following a one-year stint as the wide receivers coach at McNeese State under Sterlin Gilbert and one year at Missouri State as the wide receivers coach.

Sampson spent two years on Syracuse's staff (2016-17) as a graduate assistant and quality control coach. An expert in the passing game, Sampson's two years on staff coincided with two of the Orange's four-most productive passing seasons ever in terms of total yards.

Sampson was a four-year starter at wide receiver for Baylor from 2009-12, helping the Bears reach three consecutive bowl games for the first time in school history. He finished his career fifth on Baylor's all-time receptions list (165) and 10th in career receiving yardage (1,905). Following his college career, Sampson spent time in the NFL with the Indianapolis Colts, Dallas Cowboys and Pittsburgh Steelers. In 2015, he signed with the Ottawa Redblacks of the Canadian Football League.

A two-time Academic All-Big 12 selection, Sampson graduated from Baylor in 2012 with a bachelor's degree in speech communication. He earned his master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation from Syracuse University's School of Education in 2018.

JIM SCHLENSKER

Head Equipment Manager for Football

Jim Schlensker joined the Syracuse equipment staff in 1994 and was promoted to head equipment manager for football in January 2011.

His primary responsibilities include gameday preparation of equipment and locker room facilities for both home and away contests, as well as office duties. Schlensker is responsible for football equipment purchasing and reconditioning, maintenance and inventory control. He has staffed 10 bowl games for the Orange, including the 2018 Camping World Bowl.

Schlensker came to Syracuse from Northwestern. The Fort Wayne, Indiana native is a 1990 graduate of St. Joseph's College. He is certified by the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA).

BRYAN SHEPHERD

Quality Control (Defense)

Bryan Shepherd, who served as cornerbacks coach for North Dakota State's 2017 FCS national championship team, is in his fourth season as a quality control coach at Syracuse.

Since arriving at Syracuse, the Orange defense has produced numerous NFL draftees and had the most takeaways at the FBS level over the last-three seasons.

A 2015 NDSU graduate, Shepherd served on the coaching staff at his alma mater for two seasons. He worked as a defensive assistant in 2016 and was promoted to full-time cornerbacks coach in February 2017.

In first season on the staff, Shepherd worked with NDSU's defensive backs in addition to coordinating the scout team offense and special teams. In 2017, Shepherd mentored a collection of cornerbacks who helped the Bison rank first nationally in total defense (237.4 ypg), second in passing efficiency defense (93.12) and third in interceptions (22). Overall, NDSU went 14-1 and defeated James Madison to win its sixth FCS national title.

Before joining the coaching staff, Shepherd was a defensive back for the Bison's first three FCS national championship teams (2011-13). He went on to play for the Washington Redskins in the 2014 preseason as an undrafted free agent. In 2015, he spent time with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League.

A native of Olathe, Kansas, Shepherd attended the University of Nebraska Omaha for two years before transferring to North Dakota State. He earned his bachelor's degree in university studies from NDSU in 2015.

SUPPORT STAFF

SEAN TETER

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Sean Teter was named an assistant strength and conditioning coach for football in February 2018. He came to Syracuse after serving as the head strength and conditioning coordinator at Central Missouri for six years.

At Central Missouri, Teter was responsible for implementing the strength and conditioning programs for all 17 of the school's intercollegiate sports. He directly supervised football, men's and women's basketball, baseball, softball, men's and women's golf, wrestling and bowling.

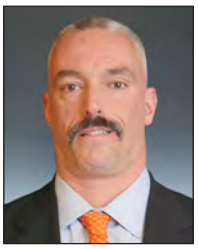
Teter worked with two national championship teams during his stint in Warrensburg. The Mules men's basketball team captured the NCAA Division II title in 2014 and the Jennies women's soccer team won it all in 2017.

Teter joined the Central Missouri staff in December of 2010 as a graduate assistant in strength and conditioning before leading the department.

Prior to working at Central Missouri, Teter was a strength and conditioning intern at MidAmerica Nazarene University in Olathe, Kansas.

A two-year football letterman at Butler Community College, Teter transferred to Kansas and earned his bachelor's degree in sports science from KU in 2010. He graduated from Central Missouri in 2016 with a master's degree in physical education.

Teter is SCCC certified through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa) and holds a USA Weightlifting Level 1 Performance certification.



DAN WEBB

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

A strength and conditioning intern during the 2018 season, Dan Webb was promoted to assistant strength and conditioning coach for football in the spring of 2019.

Webb previously worked as the director of strength and conditioning for the Akron football program from 2012-14. He spent the 2011 season as a graduate assistant for the Zips.

From 2008-10, Webb was a member of the strength and conditioning staff at Michigan, serving one year as an intern and two seasons as an assistant coach. During that time he trained student-athletes from multiple sports, including football, men's ice hockey and wrestling.

Prior to joining the Akron staff, Webb worked at Strength In Motion in Syracuse. He taught proper Olympic lifting techniques, nutrition and customized training programs for his clients. Among the athletes he worked with were select members of the Orange men's basketball team.

Webb has a bachelor's degree in kinesiology and fitness development from SUNY Cortland and a master's degree in sport science and coaching from Akron. He is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) and is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS).

BRAD WITTKE

Director of Operations

Brad Wittke was named Syracuse's director of football operations in January of 2016 after serving in the same capacity for head coach Dino Babers at Bowling Green in 2015.

Wittke is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Orange program, including budget management, capital projects, travel, meals and the team calendar. He has a role in most non-coaching decisions and serves as director for the Dino Babers Summer Football Camp series.

He has also taken on additional roles during COVID, as he played a large part in Syracuse's return to play protocols. Syracuse played all-11 games as scheduled without any COVID cancellations or postponements, making them one of the few teams in the nation to do so.

In December 2018, Wittke was in charge of logistics for Syracuse's appearance in the Camping World Bowl. He oversaw all details and arrangements for the players, staff, student staff and staff families when the team shifted its operations from Syracuse to Orlando, Florida for the final week of game preparation. Those responsibilities included coordinating travel, hotel accommodations, meals, practices and the team's participation in bowl-sponsored events.

Addiitonal highlights of Wittke's tenure include working closely with Nike to design the uniforms the Orange debuted in 2019 and leading several major projects to enhance Syracuse's football facilities. For more than a year, Wittke and Nike conducted extensive research to create a design that combined the rich history of Syracuse football with Nike's advanced performance technology, resulting in a uniform kit that drew rave reviews from players, fans and media alike. He also oversaw the upgrades made to the surfaces of the Ben Schwartzwalder and Maury Katz Practice Fields and spearheaded the redesign of multiple spaces utilized by Orange student-athletes and staff, including the player lounge, Ferguson Auditorium, parts of the Michael M. Bill '58 Locker Room, the weight room and the Ensley Athletic Center.

Wittke's stint at Bowling Green marked his return to the college ranks after three seasons in the front office of the Arena Football League's Pittsburgh Power. Before joining the Power, Wittke gained collegiate team operations experience at both Eastern Illinois and Arizona State.

While at Arizona State, Wittke served as an operations assistant for the men's basketball program. His responsibilities included film exchange, high school relations, recruiting travel and other duties.

At Eastern Illinois, Wittke was a graduate assistant for New Student Programs. Late in his time there, Wittke became a football scouting assistant where he aided in film analysis of future opponents and self scouting. Wittke also worked as an intern for PlayNextLevel.com while in Charleston.

Wittke began his Arena Football League tenure as an operations assistant with the Power shortly after the conclusion of the 2011 season. He assisted on all projects related to football operations, gameday experience and player personnel. He also coordinated travel and player accommodations.

The following year, Wittke was promoted to director of player personnel. He oversaw all decisions related to the recruitment and signing of players from July 2012 through the 2014 season. In that position, Wittke expanded the organization's scouting and recruitment initiatives and retooled a roster that improved by 11 wins from 2013 to 2014.

A 2009 Arizona State graduate with a degree in management, Wittke holds a master's degree in sport administration from Eastern Illinois.

Wittke and his wife, Jane, reside in Clay with their son, Brooks.

Wittke's father, Roy, is the Orange football program's director of player personnel.

ROY WITTKE

Director of Player Personnel

A fixture in college football for four decades, Roy Wittke assumed the role of director of player personnel in 2020 after serving as Syracuse's director of player development for four seasons. Wittke is in charge of roster management and acts as the primary liaison between the program and University personnel, including the Student-Athlete Academic Development staff. Additionally, he oversees the team's community outreach programs and serves as an advisor to the Syracuse University chapter of Uplifting Athletes.

During Wittke's tenure, the Orange received AFCA Academic Honorable Mention status each season until the AFCA discontinued the recognition in 2018. Additionally, the team earned the 2016-17 'Cuse Cares Award for its outstanding commitment to community service.

Several players have been individually recognized for their civic engagement activities during Wittke's time at Syracuse. Linebacker Kielan Whitner was selected to the 2018 AFCA Allstate Good Works Team for his dedication to community service and enriching the lives of others. Former Uplifting Athletes chapter presidents Zack Mahoney and Sam Heckel were named finalists for the Uplifting Athletes Rare Disease Champion Award. Heckel was also voted to the inaugural Uplifting Athletes Rare Disease Champion Team in 2019. The trio all received the ACC's Top Six for Service Award at least once during their careers.

Prior to joining the Orange, Wittke was Bowling Green's recruiting coordinator (2015) and director of operations (2014) under Dino Babers.

Before making the transition from coach to administrator, Wittke spent 33 years on the sidelines. He coached 19 seasons at Eastern Illinois, 17 of which were spent as the offensive coordinator in two separate stints under head coach Bob Spoo.

As the architect of the Panthers offense from 1990-2002, Wittke helped EIU win 82 games and make five FCS playoff appearances. He is best known for developing former Dallas Cowboys Pro Bowl quarterback Tony Romo during that period. Under Wittke's direction, Romo was named Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year three times and captured the 2002 Walter Payton Award as the best player in Division I-AA (now FCS). Wittke was honored as the AFCA Division I-AA Assistant Coach of the Year in Romo's senior season of 2002, as the Panthers ranked fourth in the nation in scoring (35.3 ppg) and fifth in total offense (452.6 ypg).

Wittke coached 14 players who earned All-America honors and numerous all-league selections in both the Ohio Valley Conference and Gateway Football Conference during his first stint at EIU. In addition, three of his offensive units ranked among the top five in EIU single-season history for both total offense and scoring.

After the 2002 season, Wittke worked as the offensive coordinator at Arkansas from 2003-05. He spent one season each at Arizona State (2006) and Northern Illinois (2007). In 2003, he helped the Razorbacks to the Independence Bowl. Wittke coached in the 2006 Hawaii Bowl with Arizona State.

Wittke returned to Eastern Illinois as offensive coordinator in 2008. His second go-around with the Panthers included tutoring another NFL quarterback – Jimmy Garoppolo. The second-round pick of the New England Patriots in 2014, Garoppolo earned Ohio Valley Conference Newcomer of the Year honors in 2010 despite only eight starts. Garoppolo continued his development under Wittke in 2011 and, like Romo, eventually went on to win the Walter Payton Award as the top FCS player as a senior in 2013.

After the 2011 season, Wittke made the move to administration, serving as EIU's director of operations under Babers from 2012-13.

In addition to his stops at Eastern Illinois, Arkansas and Northern Illinois, Wittke's coaching résumé includes stints at his alma mater, the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire (1979-81), Montana State (1982-84) and Central Missouri State (1985-89).

Wittke is a 1982 graduate of Wisconsin-Eau Claire. He and his wife, Patty, have three children – sons Brad and Jeff, and daughter Bekah. Brad Wittke is Syracuse's director of football operations.

A UNIQUE SEASON

• As it was for the rest of the globe, the headline for the 2020 football season will be related to the COVID-19 Pandemic.
• Prior to the start of the season, the ACC scrapped its previous schedule and released plans for member institutions to play an 11-game season, with 10 of those games being against ACC teams. Notre Dame joined the league for a one-season schedule as well.
• With a littany of games across the country cancelled as the nation battled the pandemic, Syracuse managed to navigate the entire football season without a single player or coaching staff member testing positive for the virus.
• 'Cuse played all-11 games as scheduled with no cancellations or postponements, making them one-of-fourteen FBS programs to play a 10-or-more game schedule with zero cancellations or postponements caused by positives within that respective program.
• Further, Syracuse was one of just two ACC programs to run through their entire schedule with no scheduling changes at all.

ROOKIES ON DEFENSE

• Six Syracuse freshmen (four true, two redshirt) started on defense in Syracuse's game vs. NC State, breaking the previous program record for most freshman to start on one side of the ball (5), which was set in the prior two games (vs. Boston College and at Louisville).
• In each of the last eight games of the year, Syracuse started four-or-more freshmen on defense. Prior to this season, four was the most freshmen starters on one side of the ball in program history.
• Against NC State LB Marlowe Wax made his first collegiate start alongside the group that had started the prior two games together (LB Stefon Thompson and DBs Garrett Williams, Aman Greenwood, Ja'Had Carter and Rob Hanna).
• Additionally, more than 71-percent of Syracuse's active roster this season is comprised of players in their first two years of eligibility, a mark that ranks fourth in the FBS. The 'active roster' is comprised of players who've not opted out. The list includes injured players.

FIRST-TIME STARTERS

• LB Marlowe Wax became the 16th different player to have started their first collegiate game this season for Syracuse – the second-highest total for first-time starters in the ACC – when he got the nod against Boston College.
• Army (25) had the FBS lead. Including specialists (P Nolan Cooney), Syracuse has seen 17 different players atop their respective position on the depth chart for the first time this season. Florida State (21) has the most first-time starters in 2020 in the ACC.
• The number emphasizes the personnel that have turned over for the Orange. 'Cuse could have opened the season with player who had previously started at least one game start at 18 of the available 22 positions on offense/defense.

Syracuse was 1-10 in the 2020 season - a year that will be remembered by navigating a global pandemic, no fans allowed at games, and a 10-game ACC schedule that included Notre Dame for one season only.

The campaign featured a youth movement on Syracuse's roster. Due to injuries, opt-outs and other factors, 'Cuse saw more new faces in its lineup than ever. DB Garrett Williams, DB Ja'Had Carter, and LB Stefon Thompson were all named Freshman All-Americans by various publications for their efforts as well.

Six Orange performers received All-ACC honors from the league: WR Nykeim Johnson (second team/specialist), WR Taj Harris (third team), DB Ifeatu Melifonwu (third team), P Nolan Cooney (third team), LB Mikel Jones (honorable mention) and Garrett Williams (honorable mention) earned the honors.

Defensive back Ifeatu Melifonwu had a breakout junior campaign and was selected in the third round of the NFL Draft.

TARGETING TAJ

• WR Taj Harris is the latest receiver to benefit from head coach Dino Babers' offense.
• Harris ranked fifth in the ACC with 5.8 catches per game. His 73.3 yards per game ranked sixth in the league in 2020.
• Those marks mean it's the fifth-straight season that an Orange wideout has finished in the top-six of the ACC in receiving yards per game and receptions per game categories in the league.
• With 135 career catches, Harris is now sixth in Syracuse history in career receptions, tied with NFL Hall of Famer Marvin Harrison.

RUN ROOKIE, RUN

• Rookie RB Sean Tucker only played in nine of the Orange's 11 games, but he posted one of the top freshman campaigns for a running back in program history.
• He had 626 yards on the ground, third-most by a Syracuse freshman.
• All-time leading rusher and Syracuse great Joe Morris leads the category with the only 1,000-yard season by an SU freshman, and averaged 91 yards per game, but Tucker (69.6) has the next-highest yards per game average among the group.
• Tucker is the third player in Syracuse history to post multiple 100-yard games as a true freshman, doing so three times (Georgia Tech, Liberty, Notre Dame). He joins SU all-time leading rusher Joe Morris (who did so five times as a freshman and 22 times in total) and Dee Brown (twice) in that regard.

Syracuse Freshman Rushing Leaders

5.	Damien Rhodes (12)	2002	568

TAKEAWAY JONES

• LB Mikel Jones finished the year ranked in the top-12 nationally of all three takeaway statistics.
• He tied for eighth nationally with four interceptions, and is one-of-four linebackers nationally with four-or-more picks on the season. He also leads the ACC in the category.
• Jones tied for the sixth in the FBS and second in the ACC with three forced fumbles.
• Jones is also tied for 12th nationally in fumbles recovered (2), which is good for fourth in the ACC.
• He and Illinois linebacker Jake Hansen are the only two linebackers in the nation with multiple interceptions, forced fumbles, and fumble recoveries in 2020.

NO FLY ZONE

• Interceptions have been the hallmark of the Syracuse secondary since the start of 2018. The Orange have intercepted a pass in 28 of their last 32 games.
• Orange defenders have picked off 44 passes (1.2 per game) since the 2018 season opener.
• Syracuse has 11 games with at least two picks during that time. Against Georgia Tech, Syracuse intercepted four passes, the most in one game under Dino Babers.
• Syracuse was tied for 13th nationally with 13 interceptions in 2020. Syracuse was 25th in 2019 with 13 picks and fifth in 2018 (18).
• Two of Syracuse's interceptions went for six this year. DB Garrett Williams took a pick off Clemson QB Trevor Lawrence back for a score, while DB Trill Williams returned a Ja'Had Carter interception back for a score. Syracuse's two pick-sixes ranks fourth nationally this year.
• LB Mikel Jones finished the year ranked fourth nationally with four interceptions, and has the outright ACC lead in the category.

Linebacker Stefon Thompson (left) had 4.0 tackles for loss in Syracuse's game against Louisville. The most in a single game by a Syracuse freshman since the statistic began being kept (1994). Defensive back Andre Cisco (right) is one-of-three defensive backs to sign NFL contracts this spring off the 2020 Orange roster. Cisco and Ifeatu Melifonwu were both drafted in the third round, while Trill Williams has landed with the Miami Dolphins.

Defensive back Garrett Williams (left), was one-of-16 different first-time starters for Syracuse in 2020. He finished his redshirt-freshman campaign as an All-ACC selection. Offensive lineman Airon Servais (right) enters the 2020 campaign with a team-best streak of 48 consecutive starts. He could break Syracuse's program record for most-straight starts and most total starts with two-straight to open the 2021 season.

GAME #1
Sep. 12, 2020 // Kenan Stadium
Attendance: 0

SYRACUSE	6
North Carolina	31

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. – The Orange opened the 2020 campaign hanging tight in a defensive battle with No. 18 North Carolina, before the Tar Heels pulled away in the fourth and won 31-6 in a fan-less Kenan Memorial Stadium due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Syracuse trailed by four at halftime, 7-3, due to a strong defensive effort but the Tar Heels scored touchdowns on three-straight possessions to lead 31-6, a score that would hold until the final whistle. Orange quarterback Tommy DeVito broke the school record for consecutive passes without an interception, previously set by R.J. Anderson (190 from 2002-03), extending his streak to 201 attempts.

On the defensive side the Orange forced three Carolina turnovers including a pair of interceptions by linebacker Mikel Jones and defensive back Andre Cisco. Cisco's third-quarter interception was the 13th of his career and put him into fourth-place (tied with Walt Slovenski (1946-48) on the Syracuse all-time list and now leads all active FBS players. Garrett Williams led 'Cuse with nine total tackles in his first collegiate appearance, while Stefon Thompson and Geoff Cantin-Arku each had eight total tackles in their first career starts.

SYRACUSE	10
PITTSBURGH	21

PITTSBURGH, Pa. – The Orange received another stellar effort from its defense and a spark from backup quarterback Rex Culpepper against No. 25 Pittsburgh, but the Panthers held on for a 21-10 win in an Atlantic Coast Conference game at a fan-less Heinz Field.

Midway through the first quarter, Pitt quarterback Kenny Pickett tossed a pass behind the line of scrimmage to wide receiver Addison, who bobbled the ball and Syracuse's Mikel Jones pounced on it at the Pittsburgh 14. Jones' turnover led to a 26-yard field goal from redshirt junior Andre Szmyt that gave Syracuse a 3-0 advantage.

Culpepper, a redshirt senior who temporarily relieved starter Tommy DeVito in the second quarter, connected with wide receiver Taj Harris on a 69-yard touchdown pass to give the Orange a 10-3 lead. Culpepper floated a perfect pass to Harris along the right sideline and Harris did the rest, skipping away from a lunging Pitt defender and racing the final 20 yards into the end zone for the SU touchdown.

DB Ja'Had Carter led the Orange with nine tackles in his first career start.

GEORGIA TECH	20
SYRACUSE	37

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – The Orange secured their home opener against Georgia Tech in another strong performance by the Orange defense. The 'Cuse offense also broke out. Led by true freshmen RB Sean Tucker, 'Cuse found the end zone four times on offense to open their renovated home facility in exciting fashion.

Tucker, a freshman from Owings Mills, Md., became the first Orange freshman to run for 100-or-more yards in a game since 2015. QB Tommy DeVito passed for 194 yards, completing 13-of-24 passes, including two touchdowns.

The Syracuse defense notched four interceptions - the most by a Syracuse team since 2006 - and added a score of their own when DB Trill Williams scored off an interception by DB Ja'Had Carter. In his first ever collegiate appearance, true freshmen DB Rob Hanna tallied one of the four Orange interceptions and lead the team in total tackles with nine. Josh Black and Williams came away with the other two interceptions.

WAKE FOREST	38
SYRACUSE	14

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – Syracuse running back Cooper Lutz gained 106 all-purpose yards in his first career start, but the Orange ran into a red-hot Wake Forest team and lost to the Demon Deacons, 38-14.

Lutz rushed for 81 yards on 15 carries and caught four passes for 25 yards. JaCobian Morgan, a freshman quarterback, replaced starter Rex Culpepper and completed all seven of his pass attempts for 57 yards on a 10-play, 80-yard drive in the fourth quarter. On third-and-goal from the 3-yard line, Morgan capped the possession with a touchdown pass to tight end Luke Benson. His longest completion of the drive was a 31-yarder to wide receiver Sharod Johnson that moved the ball to the Wake Forest four-yard line.

Defensively, freshman cornerback Garrett Williams led the Orange with nine tackles, equaling his career-best effort, and one of the team's two sacks.

BOSTON COLLEGE	16
SYRACUSE	10

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – The Syracuse defense played one of its best games of the season and freshman quarterback JaCobian Morgan looked solid in his first career start as the Orange gave Boston College all it could handle before the Eagles emerged with a 16-13 victory in an ACC rivalry game.

Morgan, the first true freshman to start at quarterback since Eric Dungey in 2015, completed 19-of-30 passes for 188 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Running back Sean Tucker returned to the lineup after missing last week with an injury and gained 52 yards on 11 carries and caught two passes for 34 yards. Wide receiver Taj Harris led all receivers with seven receptions for 61 yards, and wide receiver Anthony Queeley caught three passes for 49 yards.

Defensive back Rob Hanna led the Orange with eight tackles (seven solo) and linebacker Mikel Jones had seven (five solo). The Eagles entered the game ranked third in the ACC with 268.4 passing yards per game, but the Orange limited Boston College's air attack to 208 yards.

SYRACUSE	0
LOUISVILLE	30

LOUISVILLE, KY. – Syracuse was held at bay by the Louisville defense, as the Orange lost 30-0 to the Cards.

Louisville threw for 279 yards through the air and rushed for 134 more, while limiting 'Cuse below 150. Freshman running back Sean Tucker again led the Syracuse ground game, rushing for 93 yards.

The Orange defense held Louisville to just six points on their first three trips into 'Cuse territory, but turnovers proved costly later in the first half.

Defensive back Garrett Williams came away with a remarkable interception and returned it near midfield with just under seven minutes remaining in the first quarter, Mikel Jones forced a Louisville fumble that SU recovered later in the frame and Ifeatu Melifonwu had an interception near the end of the half.

However, two fumbled kickoffs and a turnover on downs in between, allowed the Cardinals to pull ahead 20-0 heading into the half. They continued to add on in the third quarter after QB Micale Cunningham tossed a 19-yard touchdown pass to Tutu Atwell to take a 27-0 lead into the fourth quarter.

NC STATE	36
SYRACUSE	29

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – Syracuse took NC State to the wire, advancing to the Wolfpack seven-yard line before running out of downs in a 36-29 loss. SU posted a season-high six sacks and two takeaways to increase its national lead to 22. Rex Culpepper threw for 254 yards and two scores, Taj Harris had a personal-best 13 catches for 146 yards and a TD, and Mikel Jones recorded his fourth interception on the year. Ja'Had Carter finished with a career-best 13 tackles.

After NC State scored midway through the first quarter, Trebor Pena returned the ensuing kickoff 98-yards for a score to tied the game at seven. In the second quarter, 'Cuse took a 13-7 lead on pair of Andre Szmyt field goals on drives that started with SU turnovers. Geoff Cantin-Arku forced a fumble and then Ifeatu Melifonwu forced an interception with a jaring hit to knock the ball into the air for Mikel Jones to grab.

After NC State scored to go up one, 14-13, Culpepper threw a 60-yard touchdown pass to Nykeim Johnson and Marlowe Wax sacked Hockman in the end zone for a safety for a 22-14 Orange lead at halftime. NC State outscored the Orange 22-7 i the second half for the win.

Notre Dame	45

NOTRE DAME, IND. – A valiant effort that put an early scare into the nation's No. 2 team came up short, as Syracuse lost 45-21 at Notre Dame to cap off the 2020 season.

The Orange offense posted a season-best 248 yards on the ground, led by freshman Sean Tucker and redshirt-sophomore Cooper Lutz, who both crossed the century mark. Taj Harris, who had eight catches for 69 yards, will enter the 2021 season tied with Marvin Harrison for sixth in program history with 135 career receptions as 'Cuse put up 414 yards of total offense on the Irish.

Defensively, Ja'Had Carter picked off Ian Book. It was only the second time the Notre Dame senior QB had been intercepted during the 2020 season. Lee Kpogba and Garrett Williams led the 'Cuse with eight tackles apiece. Williams had three pass breakups while Geoff Cantin-Arku recorded two sacks.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL CHRONOLOGY

Coached by Bobby Winston, the 1890 Syracuse football team was the first Orange squad to play a full season. The team posted a 7-4 record.

1889
On Nov. 23, Syracuse traveled to Rochester for its first intercollegiate football game. Wearing pink and blue uniforms, Syracuse lost 36-0 to finish the season 0-1.

1890
Orange was adopted as the school color and Syracuse's athletic teams are henceforth known as "Orange" or "Orangemen." Bobby Winston became the program's first head coach. The Orange defeated the Syracuse Athletic Association 14-0 in the season opener for their first football victory en route to a 7-4 record.

1891
The Orange defeated Rochester (18-16) and the Syracuse Athletic Association (22-10) in its final two games to finish with a 4-7 record in William Galbraith's only year as head coach.

1892
The only season in Syracuse football history with no wins when at least two games were played. The Orange went 0-8-1 under coach Jordan C. Wells.

1893
Without an official coach, the Orange finished the season with a 4-9-1 record. The team posted triumphs against Syracuse High School, Hamilton College, Onondaga Academy and Cazenovia.

1894
In his only season as Syracuse's head coach, George H. Bond led the Orange to a 6-5 record.

1895
The Orange secured their first real home field, as Syracuse went from playing in parks throughout the city to playing at The Oval, which was a space located behind the Hall of Languages. The Orange recorded their first victory against rival Colgate, winning by the score of 4-0.

1896
The Orange played their first opponent from outside New York state, losing to Williams College, 24-6.

1897
The Colgate "Hoodoo" was born when a newspaper reporter sympathetic to the Raiders' cause tackled an Orange player who was on his way to scoring the winning touchdown. The game ended in a 6-6 tie.

1898
The Orange posted an 8-2-1 record, outscoring their opponents 192-69 under the direction of head coach Frank E. Wade.

1899
Syracuse finished 4-4 in the final season of head coach Frank E. Wade's three-year tenure.

1900
Edwin Sweetland, a Cornell grad, was hired as head football coach and to start the crew program. He guided the Orange to a 7-2-1 record, including six shutouts. Sweetland later coached against Syracuse as the head coach at Colgate.

1901
Success builds for the program, as the Orange closed the season with a 7-1 record. The lone loss came against Lafayette, 5-0.

1902
A 23-0 shutout of rival Colgate was an important win for the Orange, as they cruised to a 6-2-1 record. Other big victories were against the Onondaga Indians, Amherst and Williams.

1903
The program gained momentum as its budget increased to $5,500. Jason B. Parish and Ancil D. Brown served as co-coaches and led the Orange to a 5-4 record.

1904
In Dr. Charles P. Hutchins' first season as head coach, Syracuse finished 6-3. In a victory against Manhattan, the Orange put 144 points on the board, a team record that still stands.

1905
The Orange recorded six shutouts and finished the season with an overall record of 8-3 in Dr. Charles P. Hutchins' second and final year at the helm.

1906
Head coach Frank J. (Buck) O'Neill was hired. He piloted the Orange to a 6-3 record in the team's last season at The Oval. On Nov. 17, the Orange handed Lafayette its only loss of the year, 12-4.

1907
The Orange opened Archbold Stadium, a 20,000-seat venue, with a 28-0 victory against Hobart. The stadium provided the Orange with one of the finest facilities of its time. Once called the "Eighth Wonder of the World," Archbold was just the third concrete stadium built in the United States. A 22-0 victory against Hamilton on Oct. 26 was the program's 100th win. Marquis (Bill) Horr became the program's first All-American when he was named to Walter Camp's "Second Eleven."

1908
Howard Jones was hired as head coach. The Orange posted a 6-3-1 record and along the way played their first Western Conference (now Big Ten) opponent, beating Michigan, 28-4. Bill Horr became the first Syracuse player to be named a first-team All-American when he was recognized by Walter Camp for the second year in a row.

1909
Syracuse went 4-5-1 during the first of two seasons for head coach T.A.D. Jones, who took over the program after his brother, Howard, left after one year to become the head coach at Yale.

1910
In its 22nd season of intercollegiate football, Syracuse finished 5-4-1. T.A.D. Jones ended his two-year tenure as head coach with a 9-9-2 overall mark. Caspar Whitney included center Harry Hartman and tackle Rudy Probst on his "Honor List" in Outing Magazine. Taking into account the opinions of both Eastern and Western coaches, Whitney's selections were considered a more accurate representation of the nation's top players than many of the Eastern-centric All-America teams compiled at the time.

1911
First-year head coach C. DeForest Cummings led the Orange to a 5-3-2 season, including a 6-0 shutout of Ohio State and a 12-11 upset of Pop Warner's Carlisle team that featured the legendary Jim Thorpe. End A. Harry Kallett earned Walter Camp Third Team All-America honors. Rudy Probst and quarterback Preston Fogg were named to Caspar Whitney's "Honor List."

1912
After opening the season with a 12-0 victory against in-state rival Hobart, Syracuse was 4-5 in C. DeForest Cummings' last season as head coach. Rudy Probst received All-America honors for the third time, earning "Second Eleven" kudos from Walter Camp.

1913
Buck O'Neill, who led the program to a winning season in 1907, returned to coach the Orange. He guided Syracuse to six wins, its highest total since 1908.

1914
The Orange opened the year 2-0 and posted a 5-3-2 overall record. Among the victories was an 81-0 rout of Hamilton, the third-largest margin of victory in program history. Guard Harold White and halfbacks Tam Rose and Marcus Wilkinson garnered "Honor List" plaudits from Caspar Whitney.

1915
Syracuse's first powerhouse team finished 9-1-2, recording seven shutouts and outscoring the opposition, 331-16. Syracuse was invited to the Rose Bowl to play Washington, but declined because an earlier West Coast trip (the first by an Eastern school) to Oregon State had used up the program's travel budget. Guards Christopher Schlacter and Harold White were both named All-Americans.

1916
In his only season, head coach William Hollenback led Syracuse to a 5-4 record. The Orange scored more than 50 points in three of their five victories, including a 73-0 shutout of Ohio University.

1917
All-America tackle Alfred Cobb captained the Orange gridders to an 8-1-1 record. Syracuse closed the year with six consecutive wins.

1918
The Orange were 5-1 with four shutouts in Buck O'Neill's penultimate season as head coach. Joe Alexander earned the first of his three consecutive first-team All-America awards. Louis Usher, Joe Schwarzer and Willard Ackley also received All-America recognition.

1919
All-American Joe Alexander and the Orange finished 8-3 in the last year of Buck O'Neill's tenure as head coach. O'Neill was the Syracuse sideline leader for a total of eight seasons (1906-07, 1913-15, 1917-19).

1920
Team captain Joe Alexander received All-America honors for the third straight year. He and first-year head coach John Meehan guided the Orange to a 6-2-1 record. Alexander was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame in 1954. Tackle Bertrand Gulick turned in the first of his two All-America campaigns.

1921
Syracuse recorded its ninth straight winning season. Led by All-American Bertrand Gulick, the Orange went 7-2. Gifford Zimmerman was the first player in team history to wear the fabled No. 44. The number remained in circulation until it was retired in 2005, but was not worn after 1998.

1922
Third-year coach John Meehan led the Orange to a 6-1-2 record. The team's only loss was a 21-14 decision to Pittsburgh. The season saw the beginning of the Penn State series, which started with a scoreless tie at the Polo Grounds in New York City. Roy Simmons Sr. was the squad's quarterback, marking the start of a relationship between the Simmons family and Syracuse University Athletics that continues to this day. After his playing career concluded in 1924, Simmons coached the Orange lacrosse and boxing teams, as well as served as an assistant football coach. Roy Simmons Jr. was Syracuse's men's lacrosse coach from 1971 through 1998, taking the reins of the program from his father when he retired in 1970. Roy Simmons III is the men's lacrosse team's current director of operations. Future College Football Hall of Fame coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf earned second-team All-America honors at tackle.

1923
All-America end Evander (Pete) MacRae was part of an Orange defense that allowed only 19 points and posted seven shutouts. Syracuse went 8-1 with its only loss a 16-7 defeat against rival Colgate.

1924
The Orange won eight games (8-2-1 overall) for the second consecutive year and defeated Boston College for the 200th victory in program history on Oct. 18. Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf was named an All-American for the third time.

1925
Clarence Thomas became the first quarterback to wear the storied No. 44. He led the team to an 8-1-1 record in C.W.P. Reynolds' first year as head coach. The defense posted a school-record six consecutive shutouts. End Vic Hanson was an Associated Press Third Team All-American.

1926
Behind Vic Hanson, the Orange outscored their opponents 225-59 on their way to a 7-2-1 record. Hanson earned All-America honors again and captained the basketball team during the winter months. Hanson is the only athlete enshrined in both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

1927
In his first year as head coach, Lew Andreas led Syracuse to four straight wins to start the season and a 5-3-2 overall record.

1928
After a 3-0 start, the Orange finished the year with a 4-4-1 mark. The team scored a season-high 58 points in a win against Johns Hopkins on Oct. 13.

1929
Lew Andreas, who was Syracuse's basketball coach from 1924 through 1950, completed his three-year stint as football coach by guiding the Orange to a 6-3 season. Syracuse played the first night game in the East, beating Hobart, 77-0.

1930
Vic Hanson returned to Syracuse to coach the Orange after playing briefly in the New York Yankees farm system, highlighting his multi-faceted athletic ability. The Orange went 5-2-2 in Hanson's first year and end George Ellert was named an All-American.

1931
Syracuse outscored its foes 238-56 en route to a 7-1-1 season that featured seven straight wins to open the year.

1932
A 4-4-1 season included the program's 250th victory, a 27-6 win against Oglethorpe on Nov. 5.

1933
After a 3-0 start that included dominant wins against Clarkson and Ohio Wesleyan, Syracuse closed the season with a 4-4 record under fourth-year head coach Vic Hanson.

1934
All-America tackle James Steen led the Orange to a 6-2 record. Syracuse's six victories included back-to-back shutouts of Penn State and Michigan State.

1935
The Orange won six games for the second year in a row and finished the season 6-1-1. Senior guard Ed Jontos became Syracuse's first pro football draft pick when he was selected 45th overall by the New York Giants in the 1936 NFL Draft.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL CHRONOLOGY

1936
The Orange defeated Clarkson to start the season, but lost their final seven games. Vic Hanson concluded his Syracuse coaching tenure with a seven-year record of 33-21-5.

1937
Ossie Solem succeeded Vic Hanson as head coach and led the team to a 5-2-1 mark. After starting 3-0, Syracuse made its first appearance in the Associated Press college football poll, debuting at No. 17 on Oct. 18 after defeating Cornell.

1938
Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, one of the first African-American quarterbacks to play college football, led Syracuse to a stunning 19-17 comeback win against Cornell and a 5-3 overall record. Among Sidat-Singh's teammates were Olympic sprinter and legendary announcer Marty Glickman, and the great Michigan State coach Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty. Sidat-Singh was also a star for the Orange on the basketball court. His basketball jersey was retired in February 2005.

1939
Syracuse went 3-3-2 and won its last two games. The defense set a team record, holding opponents to a 33.3 percent completion rate on forward passes.

1940
The Orange beat NYU 47-13 on Oct. 12. The game was played at Yankee Stadium in the Bronx in front of 8,000 people. The victory was part of a 3-4-1 campaign for fourth-year coach Ossie Solem.

1941
The Orange posted a 5-2-1 record and returned to the national rankings, checking in at No. 18 in the AP poll after a 27-20 triumph at Wisconsin. The Syracuse special teams unit set the school record for most punt return yards (662).

1942
Winning the first five games of the season, the Orange were ranked as high as 15th in the AP poll and went on to finish with a 6-3 record.

1943
Syracuse University suspended intercollegiate sports due to World War II.

1944
The Orange concluded the year with a 2-4-1 record, including playing a game against Boston College at historic Fenway Park.

1945
Ossie Solem ended his eight-year Syracuse coaching stint, guiding the Orange to a 1-6 record. He finished with a 30-27-6 overall coaching mark.

1946
Future College Football Hall of Famer Clarence L. "Biggie" Munn served as Orange head coach and went 4-5 in his only year at the helm. Munn later coached at Michigan State. The Orange program enjoyed its 300th win, a 28-7 victory against Temple.

Legendary running back Jim Brown was voted Syracuse's first unanimous All-American as a senior in 1956.

1947
Reaves Baysinger became head coach and promptly changed the Orange's uniform from a blue jersey with orange numbers to white to go along with khaki moleskin pants. He led Syracuse to a 3-6 record.

1948
In the second and final year for head coach Reaves Baysinger, the Orange amassed a 1-8 record. The team's only win was a 13-9 season-opening victory against Niagara.

1949
Ben Schwartzwalder was hired as head coach after five consecutive losing seasons. Schwartwalder won four games in his first year, including a 35-7 triumph over rival Colgate.

1950
A 5-5 season featured a four-game winning streak in the middle of the year. Avatus Stone set the school record (since tied) by intercepting three passes in a 27-7 win versus Penn State.

1951
Syracuse enjoyed its first winning season since 1942, logging a 5-4 mark. The Syracuse defense forced a school-record nine turnovers against Lafayette. Off the field, Howard Jones and Buck O'Neill were the first individuals associated with the program to be inducted into the College Football Hall Fame.

1952
Tackles Robert Fleck and William Skyinskus earned All-America honors, leading Syracuse to a 7-2 record and its first bowl appearance. Syracuse lost to Alabama 61-6 in the Orange Bowl. Future Pro Football Hall of Fame center Jim Ringo concluded his three-year Orange career.

1953
Robert Fleck moved to guard and earned his second consecutive All-America award as the Orange finished 5-3-1 during head coach Ben Schwartzwalder's fifth season in charge.

1954
A halfback from Long Island, well down the preseason depth chart, was issued jersey No. 44. His name was Jim Brown. Syracuse finished 4-4 and won three of its last four games.

1955
The Syracuse defense shined, allowing 35 completions on 95 pass attempts – still team records for the fewest season completions and attempts by the opposition. Jim Brown earned All-America honors in his second season and the Orange finished with a 5-3 record. They were ranked as high as No. 18 in the AP poll.

1956
With a bowl bid on the line in the regular-season finale versus Colgate, Jim Brown scored a then NCAA-record 43 points in Syracuse's 61-7 victory. The Orange completed the regular season 7-1, earning an invitation to the Cotton Bowl, where it lost 28-27 to TCU. Brown broke the Syracuse single-season rushing record with 986 yards and became the first unanimous All-American in school history. Brown went on to a Hall of Fame career with the NFL's Cleveland Browns after he was the sixth overall selection by the Browns in the 1957 NFL Draft. In 1995, Brown was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

1957
All-America end Dick Lasse led Syracuse to a 5-3-1 record. The Orange recorded the 350th win in team history with a 26-9 victory against Nebraska.

1958
Tackle Ronald Luciano, a future Major League Baseball umpire, earned All-America honors. The Orange posted an 8-2 record behind a defense recorded four shutouts and allowed just 59 points during the season. Syracuse lost to No. 5 Oklahoma 21-6 in the Orange Bowl.

1959
NATIONAL CHAMPIONS
Undefeated, untied and national champions, the Orange capped an 11-0 season with their first bowl win, a 23-14 victory over Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse enjoyed its finest year on the gridiron, pulverizing foes both offensively and defensively. The defense allowed a mind-boggling 193 yards rushing in 10 games (19.3 ypg). On offense, the Orange averaged 451 yards a game. The team featured five All-Americans, including guard Roger Davis, who was the seventh overall selection by the Chicago Bears in the 1960 NFL Draft.

1960
Halfback Ernie Davis earned one of his two first-team All-America honors for the 7-2 Orange. Syracuse spent two weeks ranked No. 1 in the UPI poll. The team won its first five games to extend its school-record winning streak to 16 games before a home loss to Pittsburgh on Oct. 29 ended the run. The Philadelphia Eagles selected fullback Art Baker with the 14th overall pick in the 1961 NFL Draft.

1961
Ernie Davis won the Heisman Trophy, becoming the first African-American to receive college football's most prestigious award. Along the way, he broke Jim Brown's career rushing record and led the Orange to an 8-3 season, capped by a Liberty Bowl win against Miami (Fla.). Davis, who was later enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame, was the top pick in the 1962 NFL Draft. He died of leukemia less than two years later.

1962
The Orange began the year 1-3, but recovered to finish 5-5. End Walt Sweeney was a first-round selection by the AFL's San Diego Chargers in the 1963 draft.

1963
The Orange won seven of their last eight contests to finish 12th in the UPI poll with an 8-2 record. John Mackey began his NFL career as a tight end for the Baltimore Colts, where he eventually played in two Super Bowls. In 1992, Mackey was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

1964
Sophomore halfback Floyd Little, who was recruited to Syracuse by Ernie Davis, earned All-America honors from three selectors in his first season. Center Pat Killorin also received All-America accolades. The team went 7-4 and made an appearance in the Sugar Bowl, losing to LSU, 13-10. The program celebrated its 400th win – a 38-6 victory against Kansas – on Sept. 26.

1965
All-Americans Floyd Little (halfback), Charles Brown (defensive halfback) and Pat Killorin (center) led the Orange to a 7-3 record. Syracuse was 19th in the final UPI poll and won five of its last six games. Little led the nation in all-purpose yards (1,990), punt return average (23.5) and touchdowns scored (19).

1966
Halfback Floyd Little and fullback Larry Csonka, the greatest one-two running punch in Orange history, powered the team to an 8-3 record and a Gator Bowl berth. Little set a Syracuse bowl-game record with 216 yards rushing, while Csonka added 114 in an 18-12 loss to Tennessee. Little, Csonka and tackle Gary Bugenhagen earned All-America honors. Little was selected by the Denver Broncos with the sixth pick in the 1967 NFL/AFL Draft.

1967
Larry Csonka earned All-America honors for the second year in a row after rushing for 1,127 yards and eight touchdowns to propel Syracuse to an 8-2 record. The Miami Dolphins selected Csonka, who went on to be enshrined in both the College and Pro Football Halls of Fame, with the eighth pick in the 1968 NFL/AFL Draft.

1968
The Orange rose to No. 10 in the national polls and finished with a 6-4 record. Defensive halfback Anthony Kyasky, defensive end Lou Gubitosa and defensive tackle Art Thoms earned All-America honors. Thoms was the 22nd overall selection by the Oakland Raiders in the 1969 NFL/AFL Draft.

1969
The Orange were 5-5 with back-to-back shutouts of Arizona and Navy in November. Against Penn State, Greg Allen set the single-game record for most individual punt return yards with 172.

1970
Facing a boycott by a group of Black players, Syracuse was outscored 100-29 in its first three games, but rebounded to win six of its last seven contests. The "Syracuse Eight," as the group was called by the media, sat out the season calling for the equal treatment of players and a diverse coaching staff. On the field, All-America defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann led the Orange to a 6-4 record.

1971
All-American Tommy Myers intercepted a Syracuse single-season record eight passes during a 5-5-1 campaign in which a 28-24 win against West Virginia gave the program its 450th victory.

1972
The Syracuse streak of 22 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end. The Orange lost at West Virginia in the season finale to finish 5-6. Defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann was the 10th overall pick in the 1973 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Colts.

1973
Ben Schwartzwalder retired after a 2-9 season. Schwartzwalder led the Orange to a 153-91-3 record in 25 years as head coach. He was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame in 1982. Guard Dave Lapham was voted an Associated Press Third Team All-American.

1974
Syracuse started Coach Frank Maloney's seven-year tenure with a 23-15 triumph against Oregon State, but lost nine of its last 10 to close the season 2-9.

1975
All-American Ray Preston led the Orange to a 6-5 record and was invited to play in the East-West Shrine Bowl. Preston enjoyed a nine-year (1976-84) NFL career as a linebacker for the San Diego Chargers.

1976
After a 3-8 campaign, Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American Tim Moresco played in the last American Bowl. He intercepted a pass for the victorious North squad.

1977
Syracuse posted its second winning season under Frank Maloney, going 6-5, including four consecutive victories to end the year.

1978
Joe Morris set the school freshman rushing record with 1,001 yards. It was a performance that included a then-school season record four consecutive 100-yard games. In the final game at Archbold Stadium, Morris ran for 203 yards to power the Orange to a 20-17 victory against nationally-ranked Navy. Syracuse bid farewell to Archbold having compiled a 261-104-20 record at the facility.

THE SYRACUSE 8

In 1970, a group of Syracuse University football team members, known today as the "Syracuse 8," showed extraordinary courage and commitment by calling for the equal treatment of student-athletes and a diverse coaching staff. As talented scholarship athletes, these men were aware of the potential consequences of their actions. Despite this risk, they took a strong, principled stand. When their calls for action were not honored, they made the difficult decision to leave the team and give up a game they loved and the potential professional success it could bring.

Although mistakenly dubbed the "Syracuse 8" by media reports in 1970, the group included nine individuals: Gregory Allen '72, Richard Bulls '73, John Godbolt '73, Dana Harrell '71, G '73, John Lobon '73, Clarence "Bucky" McGill '72, A. Alif Muhammad '71, Duane Walker '80 and Ron Womack '71.

At a special ceremony in October 2006, former Syracuse University Chancellor and President Nancy Cantor awarded these former Orange football players the University's Chancellor's Medal.

"These events celebrate the courage and determination of the 'Syracuse 8' to stand up for their values and principles, even in the face of great personal sacrifice," Cantor said. "These alumni are emblematic of the values we want for our students and for ourselves when we face critical issues of justice and equality. Their courage stands today as a beacon and lesson for all of us as we continue to strive for a more just University, community and society."

The group was also recognized at halftime of the Orange's game against Louisville. During the ceremony the group was presented with their Syracuse letterman's jackets, which they never received after leaving the team.

In 2005, several of the players returned to campus for a panel discussion on the events surrounding the "Syracuse 8." Following that event, Art Monk '80 led an effort to create a special University committee to consider, and ultimately plan, a formal recognition and honoring of the group. Committee members included Monk, Gregory Allen '72, Dave Bing '66, Peter J. Estrada '82, Daryl Gross, Carmen Harlow '78, John L. Johnson, Floyd Little '67, John Lobon '73, Larry Martin, Angela Y. Robinson '78, Diane M. Weathers '71, Barry L. Wells and Roosevelt R. "Rick" Wright Jr. G'93.

Today, the "Syracuse 8" Courage Award is presented annually to a student-athlete who has overcome a socially, economically or otherwise disadvantaged background or serious injury and, in the opinion of his or her coaches and teammates, has demonstrated uncommon bravery or highly principled behavior in the face of adversity.

1979
With the razing of Archbold Stadium and the construction of the Carrier Dome, Syracuse spent the entire season on the road playing "home" games in the Meadowlands, Buffalo and Ithaca. Despite the obstacles, the Orange went 7-5 and defeated McNeese State in the Independence Bowl with future NFL players Joe Morris, Art Monk, Bill Hurley, Craig Wolfley, Gary Anderson and Jim Collins leading the way. Monk was the 18th overall selection in the 1980 NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins.

1980
The dawn of a new era began on Sept. 20 with the opening of the Carrier Dome. Joe Morris scored four touchdowns and racked up 300 all-purpose yards as the Orange christened their new home with a 36-24 win against Miami (Ohio). An all-time Syracuse record-crowd of 50,564 witnessed the event. The Orange were 5-6 in Frank Maloney's last year as head coach.

1981
Down-easterner Dick MacPherson arrived on the scene, replacing Frank Maloney as head coach. MacPherson guided the Orange to a 4-6-1 mark in his first year, including consecutive wins against Boston College and West Virginia to end the season. Running back Joe Morris concluded his career as Syracuse's all-time leading rusher. He and kicker Gary Anderson both earned All-America honors.

1982
Ben Schwartzwalder, the winningest coach in Syracuse football history, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. On the field, defensive tackle Michael Charles was named a first-team All-American for the 2-9 Orange.

1983
The Orange turned in their first winning season since 1979, going 6-5 in Dick MacPherson's third year as head coach. In addition, Syracuse hit a program milestone by winning its 500th game, 14-7, against Navy.

1984
Syracuse native Tim Green earned the first of two consecutive first-team All-America certificates at defensive tackle. Green and his teammates grabbed the nation's attention with a 17-9 home victory against No. 1 Nebraska during a 6-5 season.

1985
Syracuse began a run of seven bowl appearances in eight seasons, earning a spot opposite Maryland in the Cherry Bowl. Syracuse lost to the Terps 35-18 to close the year with a 7-5 record. Defensive tackle Tim Green was named a first-team All-American for the second year in a row. Green, who was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001, was the 17th overall selection in the 1986 NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons.

1986
After an 0-4 start, the Orange won five of their final seven games to set the stage for a remarkable 1987 season.

The 1990 Orange earned the program's fourth consecutive bowl berth and defeated Arizona 28-0 in the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii.

1987
Dick MacPherson's bunch ended the regular season with an undefeated 11-0 record and earned a trip to the Sugar Bowl, Syracuse's first New Year's Day bowl bid since 1965. Auburn's Win Lyle kicked a last-second field goal to force a 16-16 tie, the first deadlock in Sugar Bowl history. Consensus All-American Don McPherson finished second in the Heisman race, but won several other player of the year awards. Nose guard Ted Gregory was also a consensus All-American. MacPherson was the consensus pick for national coach of the year and the Orange finished No. 4 in both polls.

1988
Syracuse put together consecutive double-digit win seasons for the first time, capping a 10-2 campaign with a decisive 23-10 victory against LSU in the Hall of Fame Bowl. Defensive back Markus Paul was named a first-team All-American by four selectors (AP, FWAA, Sporting News, Football News).

1989
Syracuse football observed its 100th birthday and earned a third straight bowl invitation. This time John Biskup hit a last-minute field goal to edge Georgia 19-18 in the Peach Bowl to cap an 8-4 season. Center John Flannery and wide receiver Rob Moore earned first-team All-America recognition. Moore entered his name in the 1990 NFL Supplemental Draft and was selected first overall by the New York Jets.

1990
The Orange finished the regular season with a 6-4-2 record and garnered an invitation to the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu. Syracuse put the finishing touches on its third straight bowl win by shutting out Arizona, 28-0. The Wildcats had not been blanked in 19 seasons (214 games), the second-longest streak in NCAA history at the time. Center John Flannery was named a first-team All-American for the second year in a row.

1991
Assistant coach Paul Pasqualoni replaced Dick MacPherson as head coach when MacPherson left to coach the NFL's New England Patriots. The Orange also joined the BIG EAST Football Conference after spending years as an Eastern independent. Pasqualoni led the Orange to a 10-2 record, a perfect 5-0 BIG EAST mark, and a 24-17 win against Ohio State in the Hall of Fame Bowl on New Year's Day. Qadry Ismail earned first-team All-America honors as a kick returner and became the school's first two-sport All-American since Jim Brown. Ismail's second All-America award was for track & field.

1992
Paul Pasqualoni and the Orange again won 10 games and made their second straight New Year's Day bowl appearance, knocking off Colorado 26-22 at the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz. It was the fifth straight bowl victory for Syracuse, the second-longest postseason winning streak in the country at the time behind Florida State. Tight end Chris Gedney was a unanimous All-America selection.

1993
Another year, another winning season. The Orange finished with a 6-4-1 overall mark. Breaking records was a regular occurrence during the campaign. Marvin Graves set new standards in almost every passing and total offense category, while Shelby Hill, Pat O'Neill and Kevin Mitchell also etched their names in Syracuse's record book.

1994
In keeping with the tone of the recent past, the Orange recorded an eighth straight winning season, finishing 7-4 overall. The passing combination of Kevin Mason to Marvin Harrison was prominent throughout the year, while the return of linebacker Dan Conley for a sixth season of competition after numerous knee surgeries was a story of perseverance and dedication.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL CHRONOLOGY

1995
A young Syracuse team posted a 9-3 record and a victory over Clemson in the Gator Bowl. The emergence of Donovan McNabb and his chemistry with receiver Marvin Harrison provided thrills and records, as Harrison established himself as one of the all-time great receivers and return men at Syracuse. Harrison was the 19th overall pick in the 1996 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts. Defensively, cornerback Kevin Abrams earned first-team All-America honors.

1996
Despite an 0-2 start, the Orange won a share of the BIG EAST title once again and were among the nation's elite. An eight-game winning streak in the middle of the season resulted in another bowl bid. Syracuse beat Houston in the Liberty Bowl for its seventh consecutive postseason victory, which was the nation's longest bowl winning streak at the time. Cornerback Kevin Abrams received first-team All-America plaudits for the second year in a row.

Syracuse won its first outright BIG EAST championship, clinching the crown with a 33-18 triumph at Miami (Fla.). After starting the year 1-3, a 30-19 victory against Tulane ignited an eight-game winning streak. A 35-18 loss to Kansas State in the Fiesta Bowl did not detract from the fact the Orange were one of six teams to receive a Bowl Alliance bid. Safety Donovin Darius was a first-team All-America selection.

1998
After a 34-33 loss to eventual national champion Tennessee in the opener, the Orange defeated the previous year's national title winner, Michigan, the following week. From there, Syracuse went 7-3 to win its second outright BIG EAST title and third conference championship in a row. The Orange earned a Bowl Championship Series (BCS) berth in the first season of the BCS and lost to Florida in the Orange Bowl – Donovan McNabb's last game. McNabb was selected with the second overall pick by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1999 NFL Draft, the highest a Syracuse quarterback has ever been taken. Kick returner Kevin Johnson earned first-team All-America honors.

1999
Syracuse earned a bowl invitation for the fifth straight year and the 11th time in 13 seasons. The Orange were 7-5 in the last year of the millennium and closed the century with a 20-13 victory against Kentucky in the Music City Bowl. All-America linebacker Keith Bulluck was selected in the first round (30th overall) of the 2000 NFL Draft by the Tennessee Titans. The University recognized the program's All-Century Team at the final home game versus Temple.

2000
Syracuse ran its streak of consecutive winning seasons to 14 with a 6-5 record. Cornerback Will Allen was taken with the 22nd overall pick in the first round of the 2001 NFL Draft by the New York Giants.

2001
Syracuse recorded its 15th straight winning season, posting a 10-3 record and topping Kansas State in the Insight.com Bowl. Unanimous All-American Dwight Freeney was selected in the first round of the 2002 NFL Draft, marking the fifth consecutive year that a Syracuse player heard his name called in the opening round.

2002
The Orange's string of winning seasons came to an end as Syracuse finished 4-8. The team played two triple-overtime games, including a 50-42 victory against No. 8 Virginia Tech. Quarterback Troy Nunes ended his time on The Hill ranked in the top five on 10 different school record lists. Linebacker Clifton Smith and punter Mike Shafer also concluded fine careers. In November, former quarterback Donovan McNabb was named to the University's Board of Trustees.

2003
Running back Walter Reyes established single-season records for rushing touchdowns (21) and total touchdowns (22) in leading the Orange to a 6-6 record. Receiver Johnnie Morant, defensive tackle Christian Ferrara and offensive tackle Kevin Sampson entered Syracuse's NFL Draft fraternity.

2004
Walter Reyes capped his college career as the program's second-leading rusher with 3,424 yards. The Orange earned a bowl berth for the first time since 2001, losing the Champs Sports Bowl 51-14 to Georgia Tech in Paul Pasqualoni's last game as head coach. Offensive tackle Adam Terry was chosen by the Baltimore Ravens in the second round of the 2005 NFL Draft.

2005
Head coach Greg Robinson, who also served as defensive coordinator, took over the program. Syracuse went 1-10, but boasted one of the most improved defenses in the country. The Orange jumped 69 spots in the NCAA statistical rankings in passing defense (90th to 21st) and went from 101st to 57th in total defense. Free safety Anthony Smith led a group of four seniors who were selected in the 2006 NFL Draft. Smith was picked in the third round by the defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

2006
Freshman Delone Carter emerged as a capable ball carrier during a 4-8 season. Carter ran for 713 yards, the second-best total for a first-year player in school history. Cornerback Tanard Jackson and linebacker Kelvin Smith were selected in the 2007 NFL Draft.

2007
The Orange went 2-10, but defeated nationally-ranked Louisville in a shootout, 38-35. Receiver Mike Williams had a touchdown reception in nine straight games, while the kick return duo of Max Suter and Mike Holmes also had big years. The pair keyed an Orange unit that led the BIG EAST in kickoff return average (24.8). Suter paced the FBS ranks with a nation-best 1,299 kickoff return yards.

2008
The world premiere of "The Express," the life story of Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis, was held in downtown Syracuse prior to the Orange's game against Penn State. On the field, Syracuse was 3-9 in Greg Robinson's final year as head coach. The team's biggest win was a last-minute, 24-23 victory at Notre Dame. Running back Curtis Brinkley established a Syracuse season record for consecutive 100-yard rushing games (5) and was one of four Orange players to sign with NFL teams after the season. Fullback Tony Fiammetta earned Pro Football Weekly All-America honors.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL CHRONOLOGY

2009

Doug Marrone returned to his alma mater to serve as the program's 28th head coach. Marrone brought in Syracuse native Greg Paulus to quarterback the Orange after a stellar four-year basketball career at Duke. Paulus led the Orange to a 4-8 record in his only season. Punter Rob Long and defensive tackle Arthur Jones earned All-BIG EAST First Team honors. Jones was selected in the fifth round of the 2010 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Ravens after helping the Orange rank sixth nationally in sacks and 13th in rushing defense.

2010

In his second year at the helm, Doug Marrone led Syracuse back to the postseason. The Orange went 8-5 and beat Kansas State in the inaugural New Era Pinstripe Bowl. Behind linebackers Doug Hogue and Derrell Smith, the Orange ranked seventh nationally in total defense. Running back Delone Carter paced the offense, rushing for 1,233 yards in his final season, including 198 yards against Kansas State to win Pinstripe Bowl MVP honors.

2011

The Orange got off to a 5-2 start, but lost its last five games to finish 5-7. Quarterback Ryan Nassib recorded the best statistical passing season in school history to that point, setting program records for completions (259), attempts (415), yards (2,685) and matching the record for touchdown passes (22). Defensive end Chandler Jones used a standout season to garner the attention of pro scouts. Jones was the first pick of the New England Patriots (21st overall) in the 2012 NFL Draft. Jones, Nick Provo, Andrew Tiller, Antwon Bailey and Justin Pugh were named first-team All-BIG EAST.

2012

In its last year in the BIG EAST, Syracuse won a share of the conference championship and finished 8-5 overall. The Orange captured their second Pinstripe Bowl title in three years, beating West Virginia, 38-14. Quarterback Ryan Nassib surpassed his previous team-record totals, completing 294-of-471 passes for 3,757 yards and 26 touchdowns. Receiver Alec Lemon, offensive tackle Justin Pugh and safety Shamarko Thomas earned first-team All-BIG EAST honors, while Nassib was a Pro Football Weekly All-American. Pugh, Nassib and Thomas were all selected in the 2013 NFL Draft.

2013

Scott Shafer replaced Doug Marrone as head coach after Marrone was hired by the Buffalo Bills. Syracuse was 7-6 in its first year as a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference and defeated Minnesota in the Texas Bowl. Six members of the Orange earned All-ACC honors, including Jay Bromley and Marquis Spruill, who were both selected in the 2014 NFL Draft. Bromley was a third-round pick by the New York Giants. Spruill went in the fifth round to the Atlanta Falcons.

2014

Syracuse opened the year with victories against Villanova and Central Michigan, but finished the season 3-9 in Scott Shafer's second year as head coach. The Orange were stout defensively, ranking 26th nationally in total defense. Linebacker Cameron Lynch (third team), offensive tackle Sean Hickey (third team) and punter Riley Dixon (honorable mention) received All-ACC plaudits.

2015

The Orange started the year 3-0 for the first time since 1991, but lost their next eight games. A 20-17 victory against Boston College in Scott Shafer's last game as head coach ended the slide, resulting in a 4-8 record. Punter Riley Dixon became the first player in school history to earn All-ACC First Team honors. Dixon was drafted in the seventh round of the 2016 NFL Draft by the Denver Broncos.

2016

Syracuse set or tied more than 40 school records on offense in Dino Babers' first season as head coach. A 31-17 home victory over No. 17 Virginia Tech highlighted a 4-8 season and gave Central New York a glimpse of what Babers' high-octane, spread offense was capable of. Receiver Amba Etta-Tawo had a monster season, catching 94 passes for 1,482 yards and 14 touchdowns. Return man Brisly Estime led the NCAA in punt return average (17.7) and closed his career as the ACC's all-time leader in that category with a four-year mark of 18.0 yards per return. Etta-Tawo earned All-ACC First Team plaudits from both the media and coaches. He also garnered four All-America nods, including second-team honors from Sporting News.

2017

For the second straight season, Syracuse secured a marquee home win, shocking No. 2 Clemson, 27-24. However, injuries at key positions and five losses by nine points or less contributed to another 4-8 finish. Linebacker Zaire Franklin served as a team captain for the third year in row, a first for a Syracuse player in the modern era. Receiver Steve Ishmael caught a school-record 105 passes for 1,347 yards to close his career as the program's all-time leader in receiving yardage (2,891). Position-mate Ervin Philips ended his Orange career with a team-record 223 catches. The 2017 Walter Camp Connecticut Player of the Year, Philips snagged 89 balls, teaming up with Ishmael for an ACC-record 194 combined receptions. Ishmael was a unanimous All-ACC First Team selection and was picked to nine All-America teams. Franklin was selected in the seventh round of the 2018 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts.

2018

Syracuse reclaimed its place on college football's national stage, posting a 10-3 record and finishing No. 15 in the country in both polls. The Orange were unbeaten (6-0) at home and went 6-2 versus conference opponents to finish second in the ACC Atlantic Division behind eventual national champion Clemson. Syracuse earned its first bowl berth since 2013, capping the year with a 34-18 Camping World Bowl triumph against West Virginia. The Orange set school records for points scored (528), rushing touchdowns (38) and sacks (43). Eleven players earned All-ACC honors, including first-team selections Andre Cisco (S), Sterling Hofrichter (P) and Andre Szmyt (PK). Cisco and Szmyt were named All-Americans, with Szmyt earning unanimous first-team distinction. He also won the Lou Groza Award as the nation's best kicker. Quarterback Eric Dungey closed his spectacular career with 25 school records to his name. In addition, the Orange had a player selected in the NFL Draft for the second year in a row. Defensive tackle Chris Slayton was picked in the seventh round by the New York Giants.

2019

A season-opening shutout of Liberty and wins in two of their last three games highlighted a 5-7 season for the Orange. Sterling Hofrichter capped his stellar career by earning All-America honors and setting the program record for career punting yardage (11,651). Wide receiver Trishton Jackson became the first Syracuse junior to record a 1,000-yard receiving season. Defensively, safety Andre Cisco followed up his sensational rookie season by leading the ACC again in interceptions with five, while linebacker Lakiem Williams logged an ACC-best 110 regular-season tackles. Hofrichter (first team), Jackson (second team), Cisco (second team), Williams (third team), placekicker Andre Szmyt (third team) and defensive end Alton Robinson (honorable mention) were named all-conference. Additionally, Robinson and Hofrichter were selected in the NFL Draft. Robinson was picked in the fifth round (148th overall) by the Seattle Seahawks and Hofrichter was taken in the seventh round (228th overall) by the Atlanta Falcons.

2020

The 2020 season was one of the most unique in college football and sports history due to the challenges created by the COVID-19 Pandemic. In a season where Syracuse couldn't have any fans at home games, and only played in front of a crowd at all on four occasions, the Orange managed to play all-11 games on its schedule without a single player having to miss a game due to a positive COVID test. Syracuse was one of the only schools in the country to make that claim. Ultimately, the team finished 1-10, but saw Ifeatu Melifonwu and Andre Cisco drafted in the third round of the 2021 NFL Draft.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Founded in 1951 by the National Football Foundation, the College Football Hall of Fame immortalizes the greatest of the amateur gridiron.

With 18 inductees, Syracuse is one of the most well-represented schools in the Hall. The Orange rank second behind Pittsburgh (25) for the most honorees among ACC programs.

Originally slated to be built on the Rutgers University campus – home of the first college football game in 1869 – the Hall ultimately found its first home in Kings Mill, Ohio in 1978. The Ohio location closed in 1992 and the Hall relocated to South Bend, Indiana where it resided from 1995 to 2012. In 2014, the College Football Hall of Fame opened in Atlanta where it is home to approximately 1,250 enshrinees.

Syracuse coaches Frank O'Neill and Howard Jones were members of the first induction class in 1951. Three years later, in 1954, three-time All-American Joe Alexander became the first Orange player inducted. Receiver Art Monk is the program's most recent honoree. Monk was enshrined in 2012.

Art Monk was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2012 in recognition of a standout career that included leading the Orange to a victory in the 1979 Independence Bowl.

Don McPherson celebrated his College Football Hall of Fame induction with friends and former teammates on Nov. 1, 2008 versus Louisville.

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

Syracuse University's All-Century Football Team featured a Heisman Trophy winner and nine College Football Hall of Famers. The team was comprised of players from eight different decades, including several Orange standouts who showcased their talents in the NFL. Donovan McNabb, Marvin Harrison and Daryl Johnston were just a few of many All-Century honorees who went on to professional football stardom.

The team was announced on Oct. 27, 1999 following a selection process that included more than 6,000 fan votes. The criteria for selecting the team included all players who significantly impacted Syracuse football with special consideration for those who were members of the College Football Hall of Fame, All-Americans or who played in the NFL. Nominees were selected by three prominent figures associated with the Orange football program: Sports Information Director Emeritus Larry Kimball, former Syracuse Newspapers Sports Editor Arnie Burdick and former player, coach and administrator Joe Szombathy.

"Being selected to this elite team typifies the tremendous success that Syracuse football achieved throughout the 20th century. Some of these athletes are among the greatest to ever play college football. It was an honor for us to recognize their talents and contributions at our final home game of the century," former Syracuse Director of Athletics Jake Crouthamel said.

Members of the All-Century Team were honored at halftime against Temple on Nov. 6, 1999.

RETIRED NUMBERS & JERSEYS

Since Syracuse University began fielding an intercollegiate football team in 1889, only one number (44) and six jerseys have been retired. The No. 44 was worn by 25 Orange standouts, including Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little. The jerseys belonged to six of the greatest players in Syracuse football history not to wear 44 – Larry Csonka, John Mackey, Donovan McNabb, Don McPherson, Joe Morris and Tim Green.

THE LEGEND OF 44

Like tailbacks at USC, quarterbacks at Brigham Young and linebackers at Penn State, the running back position at Syracuse has a rich tradition of greatness. Much of that excellence has revolved around one jersey number – 44.

On Nov. 12, 2005 the number was retired. A No. 44 jersey is displayed in the Dome rafters, honoring the legends who wore it.

Beginning with Gifford Zimmerman in 1921, 25 players sported the number during their careers. Rob Konrad was the last in 1998. Three of the most famous to don the historic digits – Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little – are enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame and rank among the finest runners to ever play the game.

Over time, the number's significance has extended beyond athletics and has come to represent something special for Syracuse University students, alumni, faculty and staff. It is an iconic and irreplaceable part of the school's fabric. Just how much does the No. 44 mean to the University and local community? For starters, the University zip code was changed from 13210 to 13244 several years ago. In 1988, when the University switched phone systems, the exchange was changed from 423 to 443. Thirty years later, in 2018, the tradition continued with a new way to pay tribute to the number. That fall, Orange Central featured the University's first 44th milestone reunion, bringing the Class of 1974 back together during Syracuse's annual homecoming and reunion weekend.

A committee has been established to oversee No. 44. Under very special circumstances, the committee can permit a current student-athlete to wear it.

RETIRED NUMBERS & JERSEYS

39 • LARRY CSONKA, FB

Years: 1965-67 • Jersey Retired: 2007

Csonka led the Orange in rushing twice. He was named the 1967 ECAC Player of the Year and ranks fifth on Syracuse's all-time rushing list (2,934 yards). Csonka went on to play for the NFL's Miami Dolphins and New York Giants. He was a member of the 1972 Dolphins team that went undefeated. Csonka was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987. Two years later, in 1989, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

88 • JOHN MACKEY, TE

Years: 1960-62 • Jersey Retired: 2007

Mackey is known as perhaps the greatest tight end of all-time. He led the Orange in receiving yardage in 1961 and 1962. Mackey went on to become an All-Pro for the Baltimore Colts. A five-time Pro Bowler, he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1992. Mackey died in 2011 at the age of 69. Each year since 2000, the John Mackey Award has been presented to the nation's top collegiate tight end.

5 • DONOVAN McNABB, QB

Years: 1995-98 • Jersey Retired: 2013

McNabb led the Orange to three straight BIG EAST titles from 1996-98. He was fifth in the Heisman Trophy balloting as a senior and holds the school records for most career touchdown passes (77) and touchdowns responsible for (96). A four-time All-BIG EAST First Team selection, McNabb was taken second overall by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1999 NFL Draft. He was a six-time Pro Bowler in his 11 years with the franchise and played a total of 13 NFL seasons.

9 • DON McPHERSON, QB

Years: 1983-87 • Jersey Retired: 2013

McPherson authored one of the best seasons in school history in 1987. The Heisman Trophy runner-up, McPherson won the Maxwell (Most Outstanding Player) and Davey O'Brien (Most Outstanding Quarterback) awards after guiding the Orange to an 11-0-1 record. His 164.3 passer rating led the NCAA and stands as the Syracuse single-season record. McPherson played seven professional seasons in the NFL and CFL. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2008.

47 • JOE MORRIS, RB

Years: 1978-81 • Jersey Retired: 2018

Morris holds or shares 15 school records, including the single-game (252 yards), single-season (1,372 yards in 1979) and career (4,299 yards) rushing records. He posted three 1,000-yard rushing seasons and earned All-America honors in 1979 and 1981. Morris was drafted by the New York Giants in 1982 and played eight seasons in the NFL. He was a two-time Pro Bowl selection and helped the 1986 Giants win the franchise's first Super Bowl.

72 • TIM GREEN, DT

Years: 1982-85 • Jersey Retired: 2019

Green was the first defensive player to have his jersey retired by the program. A member of Syracuse's All-Century team, Green tallied a school-record 45.5 sacks and 341 career tackles, the most by a down lineman in team history, from 1982-85. He was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American and a Rhodes Scholarship finalist before going on to a successful NFL career with the Atlanta Falcons. An accomplished broadcaster, author and lawyer, Green was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001.

CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICANS

MARQUIS (BILL) HORR

Tackle • 1908

The first All-American in the history of Syracuse football, Horr anchored a young offensive line on a team that opened newly-built Archbold Stadium with a win against Hobart in 1907. The next year, Horr led the Orange to a 6-3-1 record and the first victory in school history against a team from the Western Conference (now Big Ten) when Syracuse topped Michigan 28-4 in the season finale. At the 1908 Summer Olympics in London, Horr won the silver medal in the Greek-style discus throw and the bronze in the free-style discus throw. Horr served as the head football coach at Northwestern in 1909 and the head coach at Purdue from 1910 to 1912, compiling a career record of 9-14-2.

HAROLD WHITE

Guard • 1915

White and fellow All-American Christopher Schlacter were the guards on a line that helped Syracuse's offense overpower its opponents by the combined score of 331-16 in 1915. The Orange scored more than 30 points on five occasions and topped the 70-point mark in victories against Mount Union (73-0) and Rochester (82-0). The team finished with an impressive 9-1-2 record and was invited to play Washington in the Rose Bowl, but declined because an earlier West Coast trip (the first by an Eastern school) to Oregon State had used up the travel budget. Standing 6 feet 6 inches tall and weighing more than 270 pounds, White was one of the largest players of his era and captained the Orange in 1916.

ALFRED COBB

Tackle • 1917

A 1917 team captain, Cobb was the anchor for an offensive line that propelled the Orange to an 8-1-1 record, including six straight wins to end the season. Cobb played in the early days of the NFL, when it was still known as the American Professional Football Association (APFA). He suited up for the Akron Pros and the Cleveland Bulldogs. In 1920 with Akron, Cobb was a member of the very first NFL championship team. Over three APFA/NFL seasons, Cobb played in 21 games as a lineman, starting 16 of them.

J.A. (JOE) ALEXANDER

Guard/Center • 1918, 1919

Alexander and Ernie Davis are the only two players in Orange history to earn multiple consensus All-America honors. Alexander starred for Coach Frank O'Neill's teams from 1918-20. He also captained the lacrosse team for one season. Nicknamed "Doc," Alexander graduated from medical school and began practicing in New York City. He specialized in lung treatment and helped found one of the first tuberculosis centers in New York. For seven seasons (1921-27), he played in the National Football League on weekends while practicing medicine. A center in the NFL's early days for the Rochester Jeffersons (1921-22), Milwaukee Badgers (1922) and New York Giants (1925-27), Alexander was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1954.

LOUIS USHER

Tackle • 1918

Usher and fellow offensive lineman Joe Alexander anchored the line for the 5-1 Orange in 1918. Usher went on to play professional football for five years for the Rochester Jeffersons, Chicago Stanleys, Chicago Bears, Hammond Pros and Kenosha Maroons. He was tragically killed on Jan. 1, 1927 in an automobile accident near Calumet City, Illinois.

EVANDER (PETE) MacRAE

End • 1923

MacRae led the Orange to an 8-1 overall record in 1923, including seven straight shutouts. The three-year football letterwinner was also the starting center for the Syracuse basketball team. After playing professional basketball for the Syracuse All-Stars, he returned to the University as an assistant basketball coach.

VIC HANSON

End • 1926

A three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball, Hanson was a consensus All-American on the gridiron in 1926 after leading the Orange to a 7-2-1 record. That winter, Hanson powered the Orange basketball team to a 19-1 mark. Following his college career, Hanson played briefly with the Cleveland Rosenblums in the American Basketball League and then formed the Syracuse All-Americans basketball team. The New York Yankees also signed Hanson upon his graduation from Syracuse in 1927 and he played one year in their farm system. Hanson served as head football coach of the Orange from 1930 to 1936, compiling a record of 33-21-5. He is the only player enshrined in both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

JIM BROWN

Halfback • 1956 *

Brown set the Orange record for average yards per carry (6.2) in 1956 and broke the single-season rushing record with 986 yards. Against Colgate that season, he established school marks for rushing touchdowns (6) and points scored in a game (43). After leaving Syracuse, he played for the NFL's Cleveland Browns from 1957 to 1965 and scored 106 touchdowns. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1971 and College Football Hall of Fame in 1995. In addition to football, Brown excelled at basketball, lacrosse and track. He is a member of the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame and was an All-American midfielder on the Orange's undefeated 1957 team. Brown is considered by many to be the greatest athlete of all-time. During the 2020 CFP National Championship Game, he was crowned the No. 1 player of college football's first 150 years by ESPN.

ROGER DAVIS

Guard • 1959 *

Nicknamed "Hound Dog" because of his love for training hunting dogs, Davis helped fellow All-American Ernie Davis rush for 883 yards in 1959. He was a member of a Syracuse unit that led the country in total offense (451.5 ypg) on its way to winning the national championship. Davis played pro football for the Chicago Bears, Los Angeles Rams and New York Giants. He was a starter at right guard for the Bears in 1963 when they won the NFL championship.

ERNIE DAVIS

Halfback • 1960, 1961 *

Nicknamed the "Elmira Express" by sportswriter Al Mallette, Davis powered Syracuse to a 26-5 record from 1959-61. As a sophomore in 1959, Davis scored two touchdowns against Texas in the Cotton Bowl to help the Orange complete a perfect season and capture the program's only national championship. Two years later, Davis became the first African-American and only Syracuse player to win the Heisman Trophy. He was selected first overall by the Washington Redskins in the 1962 NFL Draft and traded to Cleveland. Davis was diagnosed with leukemia the following summer and died in 1963 at the age of 23 without ever playing a professional game. The Browns retired his No. 45 jersey shortly after his death, and Davis was posthumously inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1979. In 2008, he was the subject of the Universal Pictures film "The Express," starring Dennis Quaid, Rob Brown and Charles S. Dutton. The film was based on the non-fiction book "Ernie Davis: The Elmira Express" by Robert C. Gallagher.

CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICANS

LARRY CSONKA

Fullback • 1967 *

Csonka led the Orange in rushing twice and was named the 1967 ECAC Player of the Year as a senior. He teamed with halfback Floyd Little to form the most potent rushing duo in school history. Csonka holds the Orange record for most carries in a game (43 vs. Maryland in 1967) and ranks fifth on Syracuse's career rushing list (2,934 yards). He recorded two 200-yard rushing games for the Orange, including 204 yards against Cal in 1967. Csonka went on to play for the NFL's Miami Dolphins and New York Giants. He was a member of the 1972 Dolphins team that went undefeated. Csonka was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987. Two years later, in 1989, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. In 2007, Syracuse retired Csonka's No. 39 jersey.

TIM GREEN

Defensive Tackle • 1985 *

Green was named the ECAC co-Player of the Year in 1985 and ranks first on Syracuse's career sacks list with 45.5. He remains the program's top tackler among down linemen with 341 career stops. Green played for the NFL's Atlanta Falcons and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001. After his playing career ended, Green became a commentator for the NFL on FOX. A best-selling author and lawyer, Green won the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, given annually to six former student-athletes for distinguished career accomplishments on the 25th anniversary of their college graduation, in December 2011. In 2019, Green became the first defensive player in program history to have his jersey retired.

TED GREGORY

Nose Guard • 1987

Gregory was a force during Syracuse's 11-0-1 season in 1987. He captained a defense that allowed more than 21 points just once in 12 games. He was a finalist for the Lombardi Award, which at the time recognized the most outstanding lineman or linebacker in major college football. Gregory completed his four-year career with 242 tackles, third all-time among Orange defensive linemen, and 17 sacks. He went on to play in the NFL for the New Orleans Saints.

DON McPHERSON

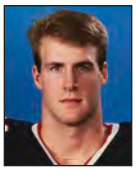
Quarterback • 1987 *

The Heisman Trophy runner-up in 1987, McPherson won the Maxwell (Most Outstanding Player), Davey O'Brien (Most Outstanding Quarterback) and Johnny Unitas Golden Arm (Most Outstanding Senior Quarterback) awards. His 164.3 passer rating that season led the NCAA and stands as an Orange record. He also set the school single-season marks for most yards per pass attempt (10.2) and most yards per completion (18.1). Upon graduating from Syracuse, McPherson spent seven seasons in the NFL and CFL. After retiring from football in 1994, he joined the staff of Northeastern University's Center for the Study of Sport in Society before becoming the first executive director of the Sports Leadership Institute at Adelphi University. McPherson was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2008. Syracuse retired McPherson's No. 9 jersey in 2013.

JOHN FLANNERY

Center • 1990

With Flannery as the anchor of the offensive line from 1987-90, Syracuse posted a four-year record of 36-10-3, including a 3-0-1 record in bowl games. A native of Pottsville, Pennsylvania, Flannery started at left guard for Syracuse in 1987 before shifting to center. He was a three-time All-American, earning first-team honors in both 1989 and 1990. He was drafted in the second round by the Houston Oilers and made the NFL All-Rookie Team in 1991. He later made professional stops with the Dallas Cowboys and St. Louis Rams, winning a Super Bowl title as a member of the Rams in 1999. That same year, Flannery was named to Syracuse's All-Century Team.



CHRIS GEDNEY

Tight End • 1992 *

A native of nearby Liverpool, New York, Gedney set the standard for Orange tight ends. He held the school records for most receptions by a tight end in a season (34) and career (91) until 2011. His 34 catches and five touchdowns during the 1992 season helped propel Syracuse to a 10-2 record and a victory over Colorado in the Fiesta Bowl. Gedney played seven seasons in the NFL for the Chicago Bears and Arizona Cardinals. In 2008, he returned to his alma mater as the Orange Club's assistant athletics director for major gifts. He was appointed senior associate athletics director for the Orange Club in 2011, a position he held until his passing in 2018. A member of Syracuse's All-Century Team, Gedney was named a 2015 ACC Football Legend. He also served as the color analyst for Syracuse IMG Sports Network football broadcasts from 2007-2017.

DWIGHT FREENEY

Defensive End • 2001 *

Freeney terrorized opposing quarterbacks from 1998-2001. He holds the Orange records for most sacks in a game (4.5 vs. Virginia Tech in 2000) and season (17.5 in 2001). He finished his career with 34 quarterback takedowns, second only to Tim Green on the Syracuse all-time list. Freeney was team MVP his junior year. As a senior in 2001, he was an All-BIG EAST First Team selection and shared BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year honors. He was also a finalist for the 2001 Lombardi, Bednarik and Nagurski awards. The Indianapolis Colts made Freeney the 11th overall pick in the 2002 NFL Draft. In 2004, Freeney led the NFL with 16 sacks. Two years later, he won a world championship when Indianapolis defeated the Chicago Bears in Super Bowl XLI. Freeney also played for the San Diego Chargers, Arizona Cardinals, Atlanta Falcons, Seattle Seahawks and Detroit Lions during his pro career. He retired in 2018 with 125.5 career sacks.

ANDRE SZMYT

Placekicker • 2018 *

Originally a walk-on, Szmyt authored the best season on record for an Orange specialist as a freshman in 2018. Szmyt became the first player in team history to win the Lou Groza Award as the nation's top kicker, connecting on 30-of-34 (.882) field goals and making all 61 of his extra-point attempts. He led the NCAA in almost every kicking category, including most field goals. Additionally, Szmyt became the second placekicker in FBS history to lead the country in scoring average with 11.6 points per game. Szmyt was a 2018 All-ACC First Team selection and received All-America honors from 14 different selectors, including 12 first-team citations.

 - *Unanimous selection

ALL-AMERICANS

The following roster of Syracuse All-Americans consists of only those players who were named to All-America teams that were selected for the national audience and that received nationwide circulation. Not included are the numerous Syracuse players who were selected by newspapers or agencies that were not primarily national and with viewpoints, therefore, they were not normally nationwide in scope.

Defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann (76) was an All-American in 1969, 1970 and 1972. He went on to play 10 seasons in the NFL, including eight with the Baltimore Colts.

JIM BROWN: ALL-TIME ALL-AMERICAN

In conjunction with the 150th anniversary of college football in 2019, ESPN selected an All-Time All-America Team comprised of the greatest players in intercollegiate football history. Among those named to the 25-man team was Syracuse great and 1956 unanimous All-American Jim Brown.

The All-Time All-America Team was derived from the votes of a blue-ribbon panel made up of current and former writers, broadcasters, administrators, sports information directors and ESPN personalities. The panel included Syracuse Executive Senior Associate AD for Communications Sue Edson.

NATIONAL HONORS & AWARDS

THE HEISMAN TROPHY

Honoring the outstanding college football player in the United States. Presented by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York.

ERNIE DAVIS • 1961

In 1961, halfback Ernie Davis won the Heisman Trophy, given to the outstanding intercollegiate football player in the United States. Davis edged out Bill Ferguson of Ohio State, in what was at the time the closest vote in Heisman history (824 points to 771), to become the first African-American and only Syracuse player to win the coveted award. Davis rushed for 823 yards and 12 touchdowns to lead the Orange to an 8-3 record and the No. 14 ranking in the final Associated Press college football poll. Davis was selected first overall by the Washington Redskins in 1962 and traded to the Cleveland Browns. While preparing for the AFCA All-American Game in Buffalo, Davis was diagnosed with leukemia. He died in 1963, never getting the chance to realize his dream of teaming with former Syracuse great Jim Brown in the Cleveland Browns backfield. Davis' Heisman Trophy is kept on display in the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex for all to enjoy.

SOLADAY AWARD

It is fitting that the Soladay Award is the most prestigious award given to a student-athlete by the Department of Athletics. After all, Doris R. Soladay epitomized all of the positives in intercollegiate athletics. The Soladay Award is given annually to the top male and female student-athletes who best exemplify the essence of Doris.

From her appointment as the first, and only, Director of Women's Athletics at Syracuse University in 1975 until the day she retired as Associate Director of Athletics on May 31, 1995, Doris dedicated herself to student-athletes wearing the Orange. The Syracuse Department of Athletics and the world of intercollegiate sports lost a dear friend when Doris passed away in May, 2001.

Doris established scholarships for women, while increasing the budgets to run the programs. She worked with the late Chancellor Melvin Eggers and others who supported women's athletics to begin Orange Plus. Throughout her career, Doris made it a point to attend every home athletic contest of every Syracuse team whenever possible. She often cheered on one team in the morning, another in the afternoon and a third in the evening.

Her impact on athletics reaches far beyond "The Hill," however. Prior to the NCAA taking women's athletics into its fold, Doris held offices on numerous committees in the AIAW (Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women) on the state, regional and national levels. After the merger Doris directed her energy into the NCAA Council, serving from 1989 through 1995.

Doris was also influential regionally where she was an integral part of the expansion of The BIG EAST Conference to include women's athletics, as well as chairing various committees in the league. The ECAC also benefitted from her knowledge and savvy, where she was a member of the ECAC Women's Steering Committee from 1983-87. For her many outstanding contributions, the ECAC honored Doris with the 1995 Katherine Ley Award, presented annually to a women's athletics administrator who serves as a role model for her colleagues, as well as a strong proponent of women's issues.

It is no secret that since her retirement her presence in the corridors of Manley Field House has been missed, but it is clear that her legacy will remain a part of the Orange forever.

THE ZUNIC AWARD

Presented by the Syracuse Football Club, the Zunic Award was created in 2001 to honor Mike and Judy Zunic, who died tragically on July 18, 1989 when a United Airlines plane crashed in Sioux City, Iowa. The pilot, anticipating landing difficulties, requested if some strong passengers would volunteer to give up their seats and sit at the exit doors to assist passengers in the event of an emergency. Mike and Judy gave up their seats in first class to sit at one of the exit doors. They both died in the crash and those in the Zunics' original seats survived.

Mike was a four-year starter at linebacker and earned a B.A. ('81) and master's ('82) degree from Syracuse University in speech communication.

YEAR-BY-YEAR RESULTS

Game-by-game results for every Syracuse football season since 1889. Home games were played on campus at The Oval from 1895-1906 and at Archbold Stadium from 1907-1978. Home games in 1979 were played at various sites due to the construction of the Carrier Dome, which has served as the team's home venue since 1980.

Syracuse was a member of the BIG EAST Conference from 1991-2012. There were no BIG EAST standings for 1991 and 1992. The highest ranked team in the USA Today Coaches Poll those seasons was declared conference champion. In 2013, Syracuse joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Associated Press rankings at the time the game was played are listed under the headings "SU" and "Opp." The AP poll began in 1936. From 1961-67, the AP ranked only the nation's top 10 teams. Available game attendance figures are also listed.

NCAA STATISTICAL CHAMPIONS

The NCAA began producing its annual statistical rankings in 1937. From 1937 through 1969, all individual rankings were by season totals. Beginning in 1970, most season individual rankings were by per game averages. Punting has always been by average.

Beginning in 1970, passers were ranked on completions per game. Starting in 1979, they were ranked on efficiency rating points. The all-purpose running rankings have been compiled since 1970. Field goal rankings began when the goal posts were widened in 1959.

Before 2002, bowl games were not included in NCAA final football statistics or records. Beginning with the 2002 season, all postseason games were included.

The NCAA retroactively determined the leaders in kickoff return and punt return average from 1937 to 1969 and includes them in the official record book.

This listing includes national leaders in additional statistical categories if known.

The Associated Press college football poll was introduced in 1936. The poll ranked the top 20 teams in the nation until 1961 when it was revamped to include just the top 10 teams. The top-20 format returned in 1968 and was expanded to include the top 25 in 1989.

The coaches poll was a service of the United Press (UP) and United Press International (UPI) from 1950 to 1990. In 1991, the coaches poll was taken over and released by USA Today.

Bowl Championship Series (BCS) rankings were released from 1998-2013. The College Football Playoff (CFP) rankings debuted in 2014.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

JIM BROWN

Jim Brown is the player all running backs are measured against. He is the only person enshrined in the College Football, Pro Football and National Lacrosse Halls of Fame. He was a unanimous collegiate All-American in both sports. The 6-2, 232-pound Brown was the top draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in 1957. He is considered by many to be the finest runner to ever play the game. He led the NFL in rushing in eight of his nine professional seasons. When Brown retired in July of 1966, he held the NFL records for single-season (1,863 in 1963) and career (12,312) rushing yardage, rushing touchdowns (106), total touchdowns (126) and career all-purpose yardage (15,549). He was voted to the Pro Bowl every season he played and was named the greatest professional football player of all-time by Sporting News in 2002.

JIM RINGO

One of the greatest linemen in pro football history, Jim Ringo was the center for Vince Lombardi's great Green Bay Packers teams, and later in his career, the Philadelphia Eagles. Ringo earned All-NFL honors six times. He played in 10 Pro Bowls and three NFL championship games. Ringo was a member of Ben Schwartzwalder's 7-2 1952 squad that earned a trip to the Orange Bowl, Syracuse's first-ever bowl appearance.

LARRY CSONKA

Still considered the prototype for NFL fullbacks, Larry Csonka led the Miami Dolphins to an undefeated season and the Super Bowl title in 1972. He was the MVP of Super Bowl VIII after carrying 33 times for 145 yards and two touchdowns, as Miami defeated Minnesota, 24-7. A five-time Pro Bowl selection, Csonka put together three straight 1,000-yard campaigns from 1971-73, leading the Dolphins to the Super Bowl each season.

AL DAVIS

A 1950 Syracuse University graduate, Al Davis was the owner of the Oakland Raiders from 1972 to 2011. He served as commissioner of the AFL in 1966 and was the driving force behind the AFL-NFL merger. From 1967-85, Davis' Raiders won an AFL championship, three Super Bowl titles and 13 division championships.

Syracuse's legacy in the Pro Football Hall of Fame ranks among the finest of any college football program. The Orange boast eight inductees, tied for the seventh-most of any school. Jim Brown (1971) was the Orange's first representative enshrined in Canton. Marvin Harrison (2016) is Syracuse's most recent honoree. Three players (Art Monk, Floyd Little and Harrison) earned induction during the nine-year period from 2008 to 2016.

JOHN MACKEY

John Mackey is known as perhaps the greatest tight end of all-time. He played 10 seasons in the NFL from 1963-72, including nine with the Baltimore Colts. A five-time Pro Bowler, Mackey caught 331 career passes for 5,236 yards and scored 38 touchdowns. He was a member of the NFL's 1960s All-Decade Team and was named to the NFL 100 All-Time Team in 2019. Mackey served as president of the NFL Players Association toward the end of his career and helped fight to establish free agency.

ART MONK

Considered one of football's most reliable receivers, Art Monk played for the Washington Redskins, New York Jets and Philadelphia Eagles during his 16-year NFL career that spanned from 1980 to 1995. Monk was selected by the Redskins in the 1980 NFL Draft and helped the franchise win three Super Bowl titles. He was voted to the Pro Bowl after the 1984, 1985 and 1986 seasons. Monk was the first receiver in league history to amass 900 career receptions. He made at least one reception in 183 straight games and finished his career with 940 catches.

FLOYD LITTLE

A multi-dimensional player, Floyd Little combined his rushing talents with great hands and elusiveness in the return game to become a superstar for the Denver Broncos. A five-time Pro Bowler, Little recorded more than 12,000 all-purpose yards during his career, which lasted from 1967 to 1975. He led the AFC in rushing in 1970. The next year, Little posted the first 1,000-yard season in Denver history, gaining a league-best 1,133 yards. At the time of his retirement, Little ranked seventh on the NFL's career rushing list (6,323 yards). He was a charter member of the Broncos Ring of Fame in 1984.

MARVIN HARRISON

An All-American for the Orange in 1995, Marvin Harrison played 13 seasons for the Indianapolis Colts and earned eight Pro Bowl invitations. As Peyton Manning's favorite target, Harrison posted eight 1,000-yard receiving seasons, including 1,366 yards in 2006 to help the Colts win their first Super Bowl in 36 years. In 2002, Harrison set the NFL single-season record (since broken) with 143 catches. At the time of his retirement, Harrison ranked second in league history with 1,102 receptions for 14,580 yards and 128 touchdowns.

 - Territorial Draft*

NOTE

The USFL held a yearly "territorial" draft where teams could select players from protected schools in their geographic area without them being subjected to the league's annual collegiate draft.

In 1993, Glen Young was selected in the third round of the Canadian Football League Draft by the Hamilton Tiger-Cats.
